EL REFUGIAT

THE REFUGEE

An endearing illustrated book about the irreparable consequences of human behaviour

Frightened, she flees by jumping from tree to tree until he reaches an unknown area of the forest, far from her home, where she will get settled and earn the trust of the other squirrels, who despise him for coming from a different place.

WHY SCIENCE FICTION FOR CHILDREN?

As humanity, this genre has always helped us to imagine and fantasize about the future, yes, but one of the main reasons is that it helps us to understand the present better; after all, all science fiction titles attempt to contextualize and reflect current anxieties. Precisely, these issues are universal, and they are the ones children of the age we are targeting are beginning to ask.

It is important to mention that the science fiction genre is capable of adapting to many tones, many registers: adventures, action, mystery, intrigue... Thus, YO, RAQUEL PRIS is not a brainy book, but it does make you think at the same time that entertains!

YO, RAQUEL PRIS: ¡MI ROBOT TIENE UN PROBLEMA!

I, RAQUEL PRIS: MY ROBOT HAS A PROBLEM!

A sci-fi series full of adventure and necessary questions about technology

"My name is Raquel Pris and I am... how can I say this? A normal girl living in the year 2058. Of course, it's rare for someone to say that she's not normal. That would be... super dumb? Anyway, normal things happen to me. School, homework, my parents not wanting a robot in the house. Wait, wait, wait. This is important. I'll explain later..."

In the first title of this saga, Raquel must save a robot, from being sent to the scrapyard. Why? Because Capek has not activated the famous Potamos code of Talent and Motivations. And, as we all know, every robot has to be useful for something... or it must be scrapped.

Gabriel García de Oro has written more than 40 published works, mainly children's literature and books on personal growth. He is also a columnist in media outlets such as CuerpoMente and El País Semanal. Recently, he is a founding partner of Fantástica School, the first school dedicated to the integral training of Storytelling oriented to the transformation of people and businesses.

- A stand to promote diversity.
- Colorful illustrations.
- A coming-of-age narrative.
- A tribute to Philip K. Dick and other great Sci-Fi authors from the 20th century.

EL PAÍS DE LOS PÁJAROS SIN ALAS

THE LAND OF WINGLESS BRIDS

A touching metaphor about war and refugees

"This particular story is about people who run away to find a home and a safe place. I started writing it in Lesbos, in 2019, and it is dedicated to its refugees, to my country, to the more vulnerable children, and to all of the people who have to fight endlessly to grow wings, be able to fly, and find a nest.

Little Bibí is a bird without wings that lives happily with her family in a country of wingless birds. One day, hundreds of different birds appear in the sky, and life changes for all the wingless birds and their country.

Nadia Ghulam Destgir was born in Kabul in 1985, where she suffered great losses (the civil war, hunger, the Taliban regime) but survived thanks to her wit and courage. Through an NGO, she arrived in Catalonia, where she is currently living and doing what she always wanted: to study in order to help her country, and herself, to be a free woman.

- Previous Nadia's works sold more than 100.000 copies sold!
- Nadia Ghulam's memoir, The Secret of My Turban, has sold to 11 languages!
- A way of gently opening the subject of refugees to children in an empathetic tone.

EL RITO CIRCULAR

THE CIRCULAR RITE

A YA horror and suspense story about a forgotten ritual, a flooded basement, and the terrifying truth waiting beneath the Hive.

The Hive doesn't like people poking their noses into its business. You know the place I'm talking about? That area on the outskirts, full of huge, ugly buildings, where that fire happened years ago— with so many dead people. What a horror. They have their own beliefs there, their own myths, and their own demons. Now, everything seems quiet. Or so they say. But the local children disagree.

Something is waking up in the third basement of the parking lot. The flooded one. And that something wants the inhabitants of the Hive to perform an old ritual— where dying is only the first step, and what comes next is far worse.
