SALES DEPARTMENT TEAM

Sandra Bruna

Sandra began working at a literary agency at a very young age and combined studying for her Bachelor's degree in Spanish with her job at the agency. In 2001, after ten years of experience she decided to embark on a solo adventure, and started her own agency. The beginnings were slow, but now, over twenty years later, Sandra Bruna Agencia Literaria has grown to become a consolidated agency representing over 130 Spanish and Catalan authors, and with an extensive client list of publishers and agencies which the agency represents in Spanish and Portuguese-speaking markets. She works with both adult and children & YA titles.

TU VOZ INVISIBLE (YOUR INVISIBLE VOICE)

Clara, an Argentine journalist, travels to Spain to interview a celebrated author. But in a country that feels eerily familiar, she finds herself confronting the buried secrets of her childhood—and the chilling truth behind her mother's death three decades earlier.

Clara Guinzburg returns to Spain to interview Nora Rizzo, an internationally successful writer, although her journey is overshadowed by the discovery of a family secret that is the perfect script for the novel she dreams of writing.

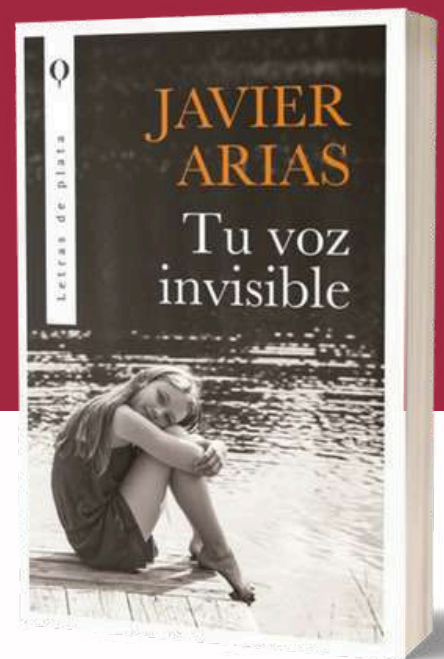

Her mother, who died 30 years ago, left an enigmatic folder that the journalist discovers by chance. In the summer of 1988 her mother had a romantic relationship with a man who would end her daughter's life before committing suicide. Clara is not only surprised by this revelation, but also that her mother died shortly after that crime in the same Valencian town where that tragedy happened.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- A brutal thriller set in a meticulously rendered Valencian town, where the darkest truth emerges, leaving irreversible consequences in its wake.
- Javier Arias delivers a powerful portrayal of the intrigue (and even the obsession) surrounding the search for truth behind the absence of a mother, a recurring theme that serves as a distinctive hallmark of his work and is executed with remarkable precision.

Javier Arias Artacho was born in 1972 in Barcelona, although he grew up in Argentina, a country to which he has emotional and family ties. He has a degree in Hispanic Philology and a Diploma in Religious Sciences. He works as a teacher in secondary and high school, and as an article writer in the media. He is married, has three daughters and lives in Valencia. His career as a writer has earned him the respect of critics and readers. In the field of education, his books with a strong social background, such as "Náufragos" or "Solo donde estás tú", stand out. However, his best-known novels are "Eitana", "La esclava judía", "El general maldito", "La tierra del viento" and his latest work, "Nadie sabrá de mí", which received exceptional reviews.

ESTIRPE DE SANGRE (LINEAGE OF BLOOD)

The highly anticipated second part of the duology.
It is time to restore the family honour. It is time to complete the revenge.

After the leap of faith that left him orphaned, Alonso goes to the orphanage to retrieve his brother Diego, but there he is informed that the boy has died. Broken with grief, he leans on his friends Juan and Antonio, who immerse him in the fascinating world of picaresque. One night, they rescue Don Gonzalo Soto de Armendía, Marquis of Velarde, and he rewards them by incorporating them into the service of his household. This new twist in Alonso's life opens the doors to a new world: Madrid's aristocracy. It plunges him into a whirlwind of adventures and, above all, provides him with the opportunity to finally restore the honour of the Castro family.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- "Estirpe de Sangre" is the second part of a duology, with the first book, "Libelo de Sangre," already having two editions and translated into two languages, showcasing its success and international recognition.
- This novel is directed at fans of historical fiction, filled with adventures and misadventures in aristocratic Madrid, perfect for those who enjoy stories set in fascinating historical periods, but also intended for a broader audience.
- We are expecting the third book of this saga in 2027!

Sandra Aza holds a degree in law and spent years working in the litigation department of an international law firm. She hung up her robe to chase her dream: to write a novel that would pay tribute to the history of Madrid and objectively describe the Spanish inquisitorial process. She delved into an intense period of documentation and historical research, which culminated in her debut novel, "Libelo de Sangre".

Sandra is a member of the association Writers with History and was honoured with the Odilo Prize for Best Author, awarded by the XXII Historical Novel Week of Cartagena.

LIBELO DE SANGRE (LIBEL OF BLOOD)

A heart-skipping race against time to save his parents from the Inquisition, and to solve the murder that has horrified Madrid.

In the harsh winter of 1620 an horrific crime propagates panic through all corners of Madrid: a young woman has been raped and buried together with a heart-extirped baby.

No one doubts it has been a ritual crime, and soon appears a "libel of blood" against the scribe Sebastián Castro and his wife Margarita, a false accusation that blames Jews for sacrificing Christian kids in the elaboration of black magic rituals.

Luckily Alonso, their oldest son, has been able to escape the jaws of the Inquisition, in charge of the murders' investigation, but now has to face other terrible dangers: the cold, the hunger and the wretched of the streets.

Hopeless, and with no other help than two beggars, Alonso will try to make true his only objective: save his fathers.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- This book offers a suspenseful and emotionally charged journey through one of Spain's darkest chapters - spanish inquisition.
- Perfect for those who love historical fiction with the tension of a thriller.
- If you loved "The Name of the Rose" or "The Shadow of the Wind", this book is your next obsession.

PERIPECIAS (VICISSITUDES)

A luminous and haunting exploration of the writer's craft, where creativity collides with commerce in the tangled corridors of the publishing world.

Anton Bellart's life takes an unexpected turn when his first book becomes a success. An ambitious and pragmatic publisher pushes him to write a novel and helps him establish himself in the literary world. He also introduces him to Sílvia Cors, a friend and writer who has already found her creative path. Anton gets married and is soon expecting a child while fully embracing this new life, which he finds so appealing. But eventually, he realizes the difficulty of balancing creativity with personal life. He then embarks on a series of actions that lead him into a labyrinth he must find a way out of.

KEY SELLING POINTS

AL LLAC (IN THE LAKE)

A poetic coming-of-age story. This story captures the fragile moment when childhood innocence begins to fade.

Nora, a twelve-year-old girl, has the delightful experience of going to the lake on Sundays, a very beautiful and peaceful place with changing colors. She goes with a group of adults, and Quim, a seven-year-old boy.

They all have their desires and she observes them, although she does not always understand them. Evens so, because of a conflict between the adults and Quim's audacity, the last morning at the lake Nora will suddenly wake up from her childhood.

KEY SELLING POINTS

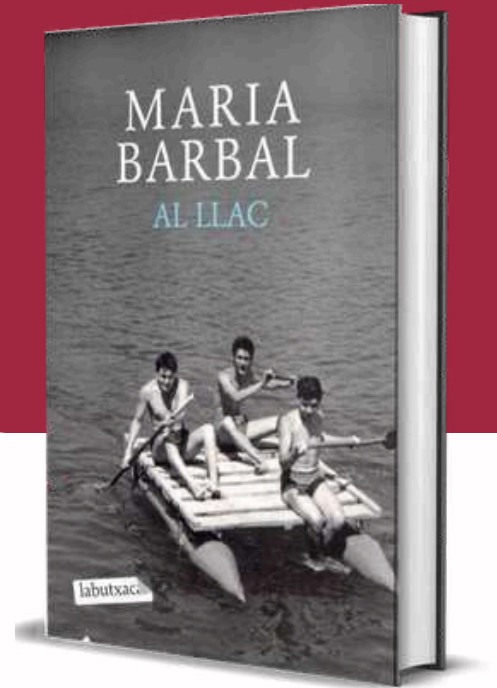

- "Al llac" has captivated readers across generations, earning three Catalan editions!
- A masterclass in subtle tension and emotional awakening. Maria Barbal builds quiet suspense through the eyes of Nora, as she begins to perceive the complexities and contradictions of adult behavior.
- An inventive literary structure intertwines letters, dialogue, diary entries, and shifting perspectives, creating a dynamic rhythm and a deeply immersive tone.

TÀNDEM (TANDEM)

An intimate and moving love story between a widowed man and a married woman, “Tàndem” traces the emotional journey they embark on together.

From the moment they meet, Elena and Armand will try to get rid of everything that traps them and retrieve the spontaneity and joy that we only feel when we inhabit the present. They will realize that they have the right to change, to see the world differently from the way they have seen it for years, to love themselves. In short, to give themselves the freedom to live fully. Tàndem is not a story about the happiness that promises us a wonderful journey, not even the one we experience when we hear an “I love you”, but the one that encourages us to pedal together and enjoy the journey to reach a deeper and more lasting happiness. A delightful novel that explores the human capacity to rethink one's existence and invites us to banish monotony and let ourselves be carried away by what life has in store for us.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- A delightful portrait of a love that runs from monotony, and opens room to the joy of pedaling together.
- Sold up to 30.000 copies in three months and IN 6 languages. The book was the top 1 most sold through 21 consecutive weeks!
- This isn't about fairy-tale romance. It's about the kind of happiness that grows from shared effort, mutual respect.

PEDRA DE TARTERA (STONE IN A LANDSLIDE)

One of the greatest classics of Catalan literature, that pictures the life of Conxa, a woman of humble origins through Spain's most turbulent times.

Conxa is born at the beginning of the twentieth century in Ermita's village, in Pallars region. When she's 13 years old, she's sent to Pallarès's village to help her aunt Encarnació. There she meets young Jaume, with whom she falls head over heels in love in a dance of the village's fair. Although Conxa's aunt and uncle are against her marriage with Jaume because he's from a poor family, they finally agree. Once they're married, the boy helps Encarnació's family in the fields, with whom the married couple lives. Later in life, Conxa has two daughters and a son. As they grow up, the children see her as an older sister, while the maternal authority comes from Encarnació.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- Key title about the Spanish Civil War, which is also a great love story
- A heart-wrenching portrait of a woman's life narrated in an apparently simple writing style
- Three decades of great sales and rave reviews, several prizes like the Joaquim Ruyra and Joan Crexells awards.
- The illustrated book is expected to be released by the end of this year!

LA LLIÇÓ DE PIANO (THE PIANO LESSON)

Barcelona 2060: In a fractured future, broken souls seek light.

Barcelona, year 2060. Sara, a 17 years old girl, gives birth in an abandoned apartment. Àlex, the father, leaves the newborn in a trash container, where Pepe, an almost blind gardener, finds her. Touched by this cruelty, he takes her to his home, where he lives with Marga, a childless piano teacher with fewer and fewer students.

Albert, a prestigious businessman drowns in alcohol, while his wife Gloria stands up to defend the innocence of her daughter, killed in an accident.

Irene suffers the death of her mother while she tries to create life inside her with unsuccessful reproduction methods.

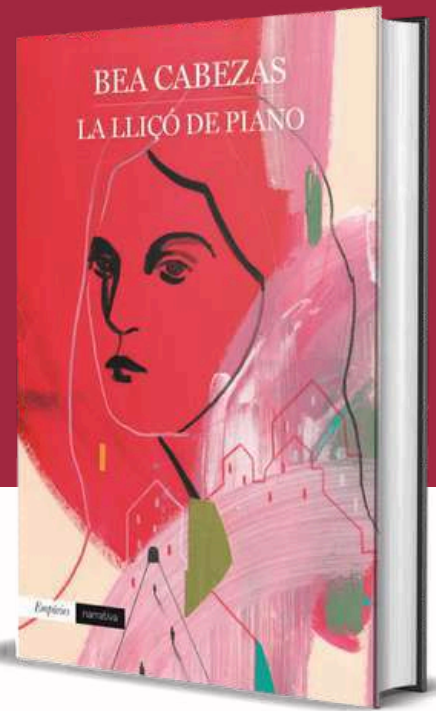

In a hopeless society marked by virtuality and the growing contrast between rich and poor, all these stories of loss will merge together in the search for happiness.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- For fans of "The Midnight Library" or "Little Fires Everywhere".
- A cast of broken souls searching for redemption. Each character is deeply wounded yet achingly human. Their intertwined journeys offer a rich tapestry of love, loss and resilience that will resonate with fans of emotionally charged fiction.

Bea Cabezas, born in Barcelona (1976), is graduated in Journalism. In 2008 she had her debut with "El monestir de les ombres" (Ara Llibres), and her second work, "La Ciutat Vertical" (Columna), deserved her the Premi Carlemany in 2010. Three years later, she published "Emprenyades" (Columna), where she talked about the many faces of maternity, and in 2017 came out "La nit abans" (Rosa dels Vents), a novel about the beginnings of a journalist in the franquist regime. Both last books were also published in Spanish.

LA CANTANT DE FADO (THE FADO SINGER)

Set in the heart of Lisbon, this is a story of secrets, vanished love, and the quiet bravery it takes to chase what's been lost.

When Guillem, a renowned musician, travels to Lisbon for work, he will initiate the trip that will change the course of his life. While in Lisbon he discovers a mesmerizing Fado singer and when he returns to Barcelona his girlfriend will have abandoned him with a note. Additionally, his producer will ask him to try new musical approaches and in search for it he will return to his Portuguese Fado singer.

But his father will fall terribly ill and through him, Guillem will discover that his family's past is linked to both Portugal and Rita (the Fado singer). During one of his trips, Rita will vanish too and Guillem will have to use all the resources available to discover Rita's secrets, unveil the mysteries and bring her back to him.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- A haunting love story wrapped in secrets and destiny. Guillem's search for Rita is more than romantic: it's a journey into the past, into legacy, and into the unknown.
- A cross-cultural mystery set between Lisbon and Barcelona with evocative settings.
- A passionate journey through music, love and identity.

GAME OF SHADOWS

- An innovative approach to judicial investigation

GAME OF SILENCES

- A crossover between a crime thriller and a romantic novel.

EL JUEGO ESCONDIDO (THE HIDDEN GAME)

A gripping psychological and procedural thriller where justice, past traumas, and hidden threats collide in a relentless pursuit of the truth.

Barcelona, 2021. Little Zoe Clifford dies after her tenth birthday party. What initially seems like a case of sudden death raises the forensic expert's suspicions, and she soon confirms to Judge Mario Laredo that it is a case of aconitine poisoning—a banned and lethal substance with a long history of dark uses, both in traditional medicine and witchcraft.

The case forces the judge to confront a ghost from his past, appearing in his dreams to reveal cryptic messages about the investigation. Laredo will have the help of Virginia Gibert, a prosecutor with whom he shares much more than a professional relationship, unaware of the danger he has put his life in.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- The book follows the story of judge Virginia Gibert and prosecutor Mario Laredo, but it can be read as a standalone.
- Eva, a lawyer herself, brings a particular sensitivity and experience to the unputdownable plot, and has published numerous romantic thrillers.
- A suspenseful read packed with legal strategy, power, passionate love, and judicial mystery, that will keep readers on edge with every page!

JUEGO DE SOMBRAS (GAME OF SHADOWS)

A duel of forces in which power, ambition, love and sexual attraction are at the centre of a judicial intrigue with a disturbing rhythm.

Ane Armentia, investigative journalist and scourge of unscrupulous politicians and businessmen, leaves her home to meet Mario Laredo, the investigating judge in the Alondra case, a network of political corruption, but before she passes the doorway, an unknown assailant stabs her to death.

For the police it is nothing more than a robbery with violence, but Judge Laredo knows exactly what the assailant was after: the information that Armentia had been gathering and which threatens to destroy the foundations of the Catalan business fabric.

The shrewdness of the prosecutor Virginia Gibert will help Laredo to untangle a spider's web that becomes more complicated as the investigation progresses, because there are too many people interested in keeping the truth in the shadows.

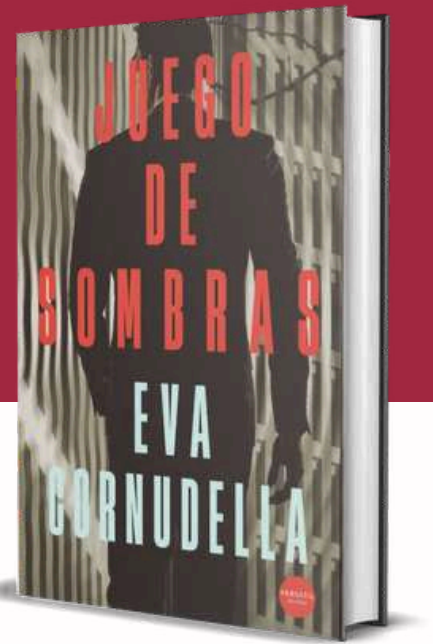

KEY SELLING POINTS

- An innovative approach to judicial investigation, Legal intrigue intertwines with the more intimate aspects of the investigators.
- The author is a lawyer herself, so she brings a particular sensitivity and experience to the unputdownable plot.

Unlikely suspects, hidden desires, and forbidden loves in a disturbing criminal investigation

Virginia Gibert, a renowned prosecutor, feels that, at the age of thirty-something, life is slipping through her fingers. She has a job she loves, a perfect husband, Diego, and no desire to be a mother, although she hasn't yet dared tell him that. It's not that they are in crisis, but she suspects that there must be something else to life.

One night, she gets home late and discovers Diego in bed with Fernando, their best friend. They are half-naked and appear to be asleep, but her husband is dead.

The judge in charge of the case is Mario Laredo, who was Virginia's first boyfriend and who has returned to her life with the clear intention of recovering what they had.

A dead husband, a close friend as the main suspect, an ex-boyfriend in charge of the investigation and a prosecutor with personal interests in the case.

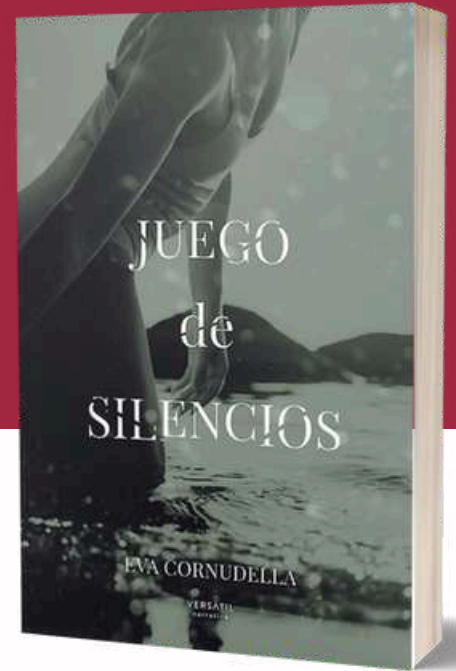

KEY SELLING POINTS

- This book is a cross between a crime thriller and a romantic novel.
- Smart, provocative, and emotionally charged
- This book doesn't just entertain: it dares to ask what happens when the life you built no longer fits the person you've become.

LA VIDA EN UNA TAZA DE TÉ

(LIFE IN A TEACUP)

Three lives, in appearance totally unrelated, are held together by a jade-green teapot that hides a great history.

There are those who claim that objects have souls. That their existence, so different from human beings, guided by use and silence, often marks us in an irreversible way. They accompany us for a lifetime, beautifying our days, reminding us of important moments and people. And that sometimes even objects are meant to join despite distances.

The lives of Sakura, Karen and Maria run parallel paths. They seem to have nothing in common and yet their lives are held together by a fragile but indestructible thread: the daily presence of a jade-green teapot with old golden gray hair. An object that, far from being insignificant, carries a history that is woven with the of all the hands that goes through.

DIGUE'LS QUE LA MEVA VIDA VA SER MERAVELLOSA (TELL THEM THAT MY LIFE WAS BEAUTIFUL)

Keynes shapes the postwar economy while haunted by his past with Wittgenstein.

Bretton Woods, 1944. John Maynard Keynes, arguably the greatest economist in history, arrives at the Mount Washington Hotel to take part in the economic conference that established the financial system which governed the world until quite recently. Over the twenty-two days he spends at the hotel, as the intricate web of tensions unfolds around him in his role as head of the British delegation, Keynes reflects on his past—especially his relationship with the young Ludwig Wittgenstein.

Through these reflections, we are transported to his university years at Cambridge. From the secret gatherings of the Apostles society to the intellectual brilliance of the Bloomsbury Group, this novel dives deep into the private worlds of some of the most influential figures of the twentieth century.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- Told across two timelines, this memoir-like novel follows Keynes at Bretton Woods as he revisits the intellectual and personal landscapes of his youth.
- Perfect for fans of historical and literary references, from Virginia Woolf to the Bloomsbury Group.
- The novel transports readers to the heart of Britain's most radical and creative circles.

Miquel Esteve, born in Mora la Nova (Tarragona) in 1969, resigned from his job as a financial executive. He wanted to move to the countryside, where he now dedicates his life to the cultivation of humanities, fruits, and the elaboration of olive oil.

Within his works, "L'avi Antoni, Rimbaud i el monjument al general Prim" deserved him the Premis Mallorca (2019), and the following year won the Premi del Mèrit de les Lletres Ebrenques.

AMOR SENSE MÓN (LOVE BEYOND WORLD)

The unknown and fascinating love story between Hannah Arendt and Martin Heidegger.

Martin Heidegger and Hannah Arendt met in 1925 at Marburg University. He was a teacher and she was his pupil. He was married and she was single. She was eighteen years old, and he was thirty-five. At this point starts Amor sense món, an extraordinary novel about the relationship they maintained throughout all their lives facing all obstacles.

Narrated in an exciting, though delicate way, this novel follows the romance between two of the greatest figures of European Philosophy. How could a Jewish intellectual and a highly prestigious teacher who joined Hitler's party share love together? This is one of the most complex, passionate, contradictory, and incredible love story of the last century, becoming an example of a philosophical and spiritual love that goes through earthly bonds: a love beyond world.

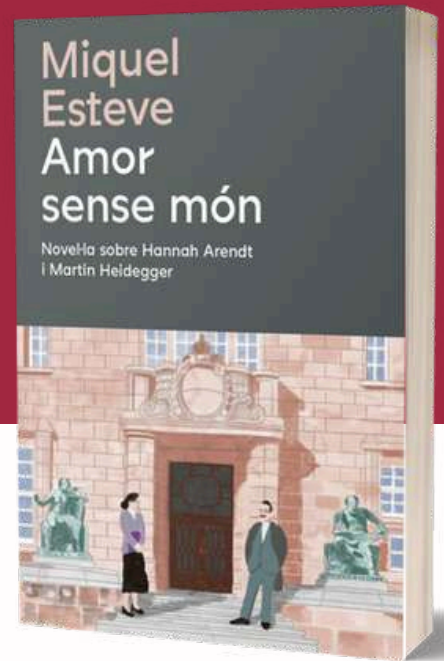

KEY SELLING POINTS

- One of the most forgotten, yet fascinating relationships of European history, set in the obscurest years of the last century.
- Delicate and exciting narrative: the constant and adequate doses of tension will inevitably hook the reader on every page.

LA TERRA DEL SILENCI TRENCAT (THE LAND OF BROKEN SILENCE)

A gripping historical thriller full of atmosphere, mystery, and conspiracies.

Montserrat, 2019. The appearance of the corpse of Jaume Folch, patriarch of a wine dynasty in the vicinity of Escaladei, brings the authorities to the normally peaceful area. The victim's throat had been slit, and a symbol engraved with a knife on his chest. The notoriety of the Folch name and the cruelty of the murder demand a quick and discreet investigation, which is assigned to the inspector of the Mossos d'Esquadra (local police) Víctor Sanz Gimeno.

Sagi, the nickname by which everyone knows the policeman, along with the young journalist who discovers the body and who always seems to be one step ahead, will not only uncover the rivalries of the Folch family, but also a legend about a secret brotherhood dating back to the fifteenth century.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- The crimes, the mystery and mysticism surrounding the heirs of a monastic order dissolved centuries ago.
- A fantastic debut novel that offers an unsettling thriller built in two interspersed times: the present and the past.
- For fans of Dan Brown or "Cathedral of the Sea".
- Set in the ruins of Escaladei's monastery, one of the most beautiful yet intriguing Catalan rural areas.

Cristina Fornós, born in 1980 in Mora d'Ebre (Tarragona), got a Law degree at Universitat Pompeu Fabra, but she didn't stop there, and later on, studied Audiovisual Communication. This path lead her to build a large professional career in the world of journalism, where not only she worked as head of press for many local institutions, but also for renowned projects as agencia Korpa, Localia TV and Cadena SER.

LA ERA DE LA ETERNIDAD (THE AGE OF ETERNITY)

The Age of Eternity is, in addition to a technological thriller set in Japan, a brilliant reflection on what it means to be human in an increasingly virtual society.

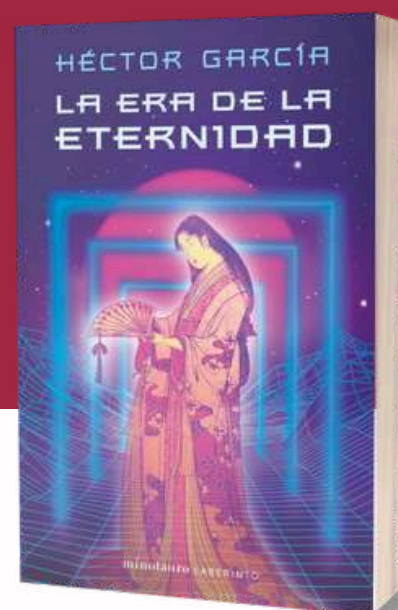

The life of Nathan, a lonely watch designer, takes a mysterious turn after he finds an old photo of himself with Mia. She was his platonic love as a teenager, but their love never went beyond the limits of his imagination. Mia went to live in Japan with his family just before they began their university studies, separating them forever. Twenty years later, a series of chain events lead Nathan to board a plane to Kyoto, where an adventure he could never have imagined awaits him. Accompanied by the enigmatic Reiko, he will meet Masa, an entrepreneur who is in charge of the most faithful virtual reality ever created: Kyotho Mythos perfectly reproduces Tokyo in the 12th century, and Nathan's mission will be to enter this world to build the Clock Tower, which will open the gates to a new era...

GÀNGSTERS DE BARCELONA (GÁNGSTERS OF BARCELONA)

Barcelona, the 1920s and 1930s: broken dreams, relentless vengeance, and the democratic dream torn apart in an unforgettable tragedy.

A historical fiction perfect for Peaky Blinders and Babylon Berlin fans!

With a blend of tragedy and betrayal, Gàngsters de Barcelona is a gripping novel that delves into Catalan politics, spanning from the dying days of Alfonso XIII's monarchy to the bloody early days of Franco's dictatorship, from the fight for democracy to the nightmare of a vengeful dictatorship. It reminds us how politics eventually brought together two figures often at odds, Planas and Badia, and how both became victims of anarchist fury unleashed in 1936. Yet it also reminds us that those who play the game of immoral assassinations may end up dying at the hands of those they once empowered.

KEY SELLING POINTS

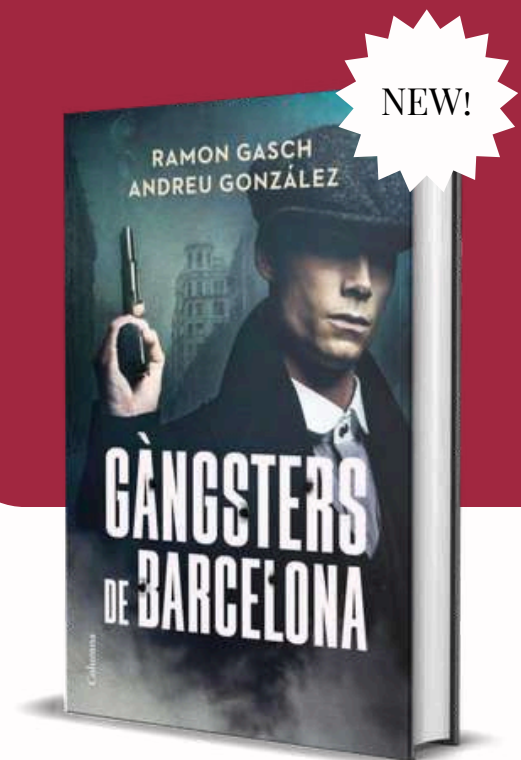

- A historical fiction in the pure style of Peaky Blinders, set in Barcelona during one of its most turbulent eras, blending an intense, cinematic narrative with rich historical depth.
- Written by renowned authors Ramon Gasch and Andreu González, both with solid literary careers and numerous published works.
- A key novel for understanding Catalonia's history, seamlessly merging historical fiction with real events.

Ramón Gasch was born in Barcelona and is an Electrical Technical Engineer and writer as a vocation. In his professional career, he has published two technical manuals and a memoir dedicated to engineering. He has also published several novels and short stories. In addition, he works in the children's and young adult literature sector. His great passion is painting.

Andreu González Castro (l'Hospitalet de Llobregat, 1974) has published more than twenty books, including poems, short stories, novels and essays. He has won the University of Seville, Miguel Hernández, Les Talúries, Vila de Martorell and Nèstor Luján awards.

PERFECTAMENT IMPERFECTA (PERFECTLY IMPERFECT)

A funny and moving novel about real motherhood, family chaos, and the freedom that comes when a woman dares to be herself.

Ruth thinks she has it all—steady job, a house with a garden, two kids, and a charming husband. But when her son begins to struggle with panic attacks and sleepless nights, everything starts to fall apart. Doctors mention traits on the autism spectrum, and Ruth, unsure of her own abilities as a mother, is left feeling lost and alone.

As if that weren't enough, her eccentric, ailing mother invites her to a kitschy wedding at a glamping site on the Mediterranean coast, where she's marrying an Italian playboy. Ruth's psychologist suggests she make a list of what she learns from her son. Eager to please, Ruth complies—but she never expects this journey to help her discover her true self: a strong, perfectly imperfect woman.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- A raw, ironic, and deeply honest look at motherhood.
- A powerful and complex female voice, with a style that blends tenderness, cynicism, and existential humor.
- A fresh take on neurodivergence, told from the perspective of a mother.

ENS RECORDARAN (THEY WILL REMEMBER US)

Discover the incredible story that two of the greatest authors in history shared together.

Goethe and Schiller were close friends. But what nourished their friendship? The book takes the reader back to the summer that Goethe and Schiller spent together in 1794. Those days that were to be crucial not only for their work, but also for their personal relationship. This book is, above all, the story of a friendship, of the man behind the myth, of his illusions and his sorrows, of his deepest longings and his most unspeakable fears. This book is the story of two of the most influential authors of European literature, always sheltered by the women in their lives, often the only points of light in an existence that shaded to absolute darkness.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- A wonderful balance between real characters and fiction.
- Filled with quotes and references from relevant authors in the English-speaking world.
- Carla Gracia has been the first Spanish writer to be accepted into the prestigious PhD in Creative Writing at Bath Spa University, one of the most respected universities in the arts and creative writing in the world.

EL PRINCIPIO DE INCERTIDUMBRE (THE UNCERTAINTY PRINCIPLE)

An addictive novel following a police detective, a criminologist, and a renowned physicist as they race against time to unravel the cryptic riddles of a serial killer obsessed with quantum physics.

After the disappearance of an unknown painter who secretly happens to be the world's most famous graffiti artist, a pair of police officers seek help from Claudia Fernández, a doctor in quantum physics, to get closer to Squark, a serial killer obsessed with quantum physics, who kidnaps and holds people leading two lives at the same time, while the investigators chase him through traps inspired by major physics experiments, trying to stay ahead of his moves in a deadly game inspired by Heisenberg's uncertainty principle, unaware that they are also part of his macabre plan.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- Not your average thriller. It combines action, mystery and quantum physics.
- This novel has something for everyone. Its blend of scientific intrigue and psychological suspense makes it accessible and engaging for a diverse audience.
- It was Imprint Contraluz's big title for 2025.

Sònia Guillén was born in Terrassa, the fourth child of a working-class family. In a house full of lively commotion, she often got lost in the well-stocked library of her older siblings. When she wasn't reading, she lived in her world of dreams and ideas. As an adult, she balances her work as a university professor with writing. She has earned two literary awards and has also been selected as finalist on several occasions.

Three years ago, she decided to leave everything behind to dedicate herself entirely to writing. Her first thriller is El principio de incertidumbre.

NUNCA VOLVEREMOS A SER LAS MISMAS

(WE WILL NEVER BE THE SAME)

Maica, a woman in her late fifties, faces a number of challenges in her personal and professional life, and she will have to learn to adapt to the changes that come with age.

Maica is a woman who doesn't follow the norm. She has such a big heart, that it does not fit in her chest, a chest that isn't as firm as it once was. She's also on the verge of fifty, divorced and mother of a teenage daughter. Life feels like a constant struggle: against the world in general, and against her mother and men in particular.

The workaholic mother one day receives well-intentioned advice from her best friend, and begins a journey from bewilderment to acceptance. Through it, she will learn that a well-managed sense of humor is not only the best antidote to suffocation, but the only compass capable of weathering us through the worst storms.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- A novel that touches on how aging is still taboo in our society.
- Highlights aging as an opportunity to discover a new self.
- Written by the internationally acclaimed author, Alejandro Palomas, under the pseudonym of Brenda Lewis.

Brenda Lewis is a pseudonym of Alejandro Palomas. He has a degree in English Philology from the University de Barcelona and a Master's degree in Poetry from the New College of San Francisco. He has collaborated with several newspapers and publications and translated writers such as Katherine Mansfield, Gertrude Stein, Willa Cather and Jack London. THE STUDENT

THE TEACHER

THE WAR
GODMOTHER

- ON ITS 9TH EDITION!

EL ALUMNO (THE STUDENT)

The long-awaited sequel to bestseller LA MAESTRA.
As a teacher, Lali changed her student Roque's life.
Now he aims to do the same.

September 1955. Roque, a young teacher who was once a difficult student himself, arrives at a school in the mountains of Seville with the hope to inspire his students to dream of a better future.

However, his aims and ideas, inherited from his childhood teacher Lali, clash with the strict educational machinery of the Franco regime and the ideals of the school's principal, who soon becomes suspicious of him. The problem is that Roque carries a secret from his past: he is searching for something that was taken from him as a child, following the arrest of his teacher and his admission into a sinister boarding school, where, despite everything, he discovered that teaching can be an act of resistance.

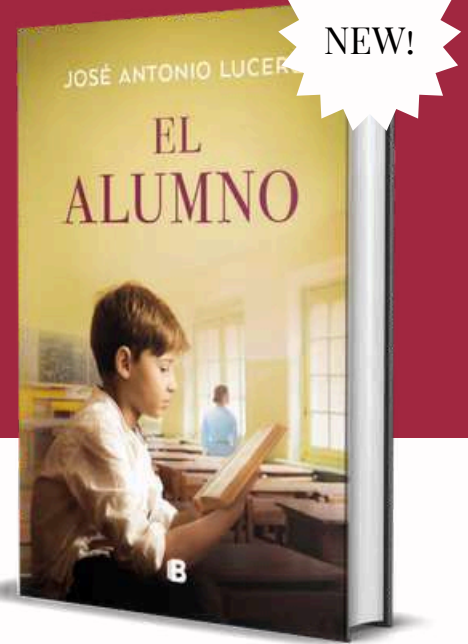

KEY SELLING POINTS

- An unforgettable journey of courage, resilience, and the unyielding power of education.
- The first book in the series, LA MAESTRA, has had 9 editions since its publication in May 2024!
- The novel explores how one good teacher can inspire different generations.

LA MAESTRA (THE TEACHER)

A story of vocation, passion set in the Spanish civil war about a teacher who struggled for a lifetime to return to teaching.

May, 1936. A young girl travels to a small village in the mountains of Cadiz where she will carry out, for the first time, her vocation and profession: that of a teacher. Eulalia – or Lali, as her pupils call her – prepares to teach a group of children. Nervous, she reviews the modern pedagogical principles that she was taught during the Republic and which, shortly after the outbreak of the Civil War, will condemn her. Accused of indoctrination, she was arrested and could not return to the classroom during the dictatorship, becoming one of the victims of a process that affected a third of Spain's teaching staff. Until thirty years later, an unexpected visit changes everything for Lali.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- After “La vida en un minuto” and “La madrina de guerra”, José Antonio Lucero returns with a tribute to teachers with an infinite vocation in a story that will remain in our memory forever.
- 9 editions since its publication in May 2024!
- The novel explores themes of vocation, passion and the importance of education in times of conflict.

LA MADRINA DE GUERRA (THE WAR GODMOTHER)

The hidden story of the brave godmothers of the Spanish Civil War: women who, through letters, offered soldiers a lifeline of hope and love.

Madrid, 1936. Aurora works as a nurse in a troubled city that resists the fire and bombs of the war. In this climate of violence, she decides to contribute to hope on the Republican front and begins to correspond with a young soldier, Teófilo, thus becoming – like many other women of the time – a war godmother.

In each letter, the young men will find a refuge in which to express the fears and secrets they cannot say aloud while discovering a love they never imagined. However, in a war full of intrigue and espionage, where everyone is a suspect, the written word can be the most dangerous weapon...

When years later, isolated in the silence of the post-war period, Teófilo finds out that Aurora is still alive, he does not hesitate to try to recover the person who, amidst the fire and gunpowder, made love, calm and peace blossom in him.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- After his successful debut with “La vida en un minuto”, in this moving novel José Antonio Lucero discovers the valuable figure of the war godmothers and their forgotten role in the Civil War.
- This story is a tribute to all those women who took the word as a rifle and managed to grow in the line of fire the strength and hope of the soldiers.

LA VIDA EN UN MINUTO

(LIFE IN A MINUTE)

As the story of Rose from “Titanic”, set in an unknown post-civil war episode: one train, two lives and one destiny.

In the winter of 1943, Madrid rises from the ruins of war. In the suburbs of the city, Daniel hides his true identity and, with it, his past in the war conflict.

In the other Madrid, the one of the cafés and the shop windows of Serrano Street, Julia begins to study literature at university and feels the need to separate herself from the future that her family has already chosen for her.

United by the force of destiny, the two young kids will coincide in a long journey on the express train from Madrid to La Coruña, running away from what others have planned for them. There they will get to know each other, and their complicity will be immediately, without knowing that the train is headed for a catastrophe that will change their lives forever.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- Now on its second printing!
- A fictional story based on a true event: the tragedy of a train crash that claimed hundreds of lives and which was hushed up and hidden by the Franco regime in Spain, an unknown and unexplored setting.

UN AMOR DE GIRA (LOVE ON TOUR)

A fake romance, real feelings—a love story between a superstar and a fan on the wild ride of a summer music tour.

Martina wins a dinner with none other than Marc Luna through a giveaway posted on Instagram.

What she didn't expect was that the photos taken during the date would go viral, to the point where the manager would propose she go on tour with them to fuel the rumor and become a leader on Spotify charts.

As if that wasn't enough, Martina will have to endure Alex, Marc's cousin and social media manager, all summer, with whom she had a previous disagreement.

Will Martina manage to win Marc Luna's heart in real life? Will she be able to get rid of Alex and enjoy the experience?

KEY SELLING POINTS

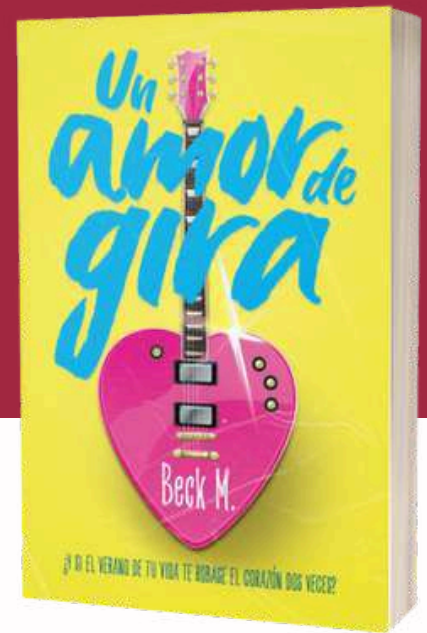

- The novel appeals to a broad adult audience fond of romantic tales due to its protagonist, Martina, embodying the common passions and dilemmas of adult readers.
- An appealing youthful touch: The story also carries an attractive youthfulness that captivates younger readers within the adult audience, through fresh and exciting elements that add energy and vitality to the plot.

EL BLAU IMPOSSIBLE (THE IMPOSSIBLE BLUE)

A powerful love story that challenges the limits of hope and struggle, as two souls face the cruel reality of amyotrophic lateral sclerosis.

This is the story of Martina and Jordi, about a love that comes later in life, when it seems nothing has the ability to surprise you. It's an intense story about love and deep connection, but also about sickness, about fragility, doubts and that selfishness of not wanting to let go.

A story about a love so great that destroys and heals all wounds, so intense and fleeting like that impossible blue.

Martina and Jordi meet in 2001. He is a painter looking for a nude model. She is an actress of middling fame struggling to pay the bills. At first, their relationship starts off quite cold, but over the course of their painting sessions, their bond grows, and so does the passion between them.

However, their lives change forever when Jordi is diagnosed with ALS, a progressive, degenerative disease.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- Marta Millà has a unique voice that turns prose into music, tragedy into inspiration, an author whose theater and TV experience shines through wonderful visuals paired with a perfect pacing.
- A book that portrays the difficulties of taking care of a loved one who has a chronic and deteriorating condition; a story of loss and love.

EL VINO DEL ALQUIMISTA (THE WINE OF THE ALQUIMIST)

A world-wide adventure to recover a lost relic: the wine that grants to those who drink it an existential knowledge unprecedented for humanity.

Víctor Morell, a sommelier whose glory days are behind him, receives from an anonymous emissary an unusual mission: to find a unique bottle, known among the initiates as the wine of the alchemist. Disappeared almost two centuries ago, the writings of the time assure that this wine grants to those who drink it an existential knowledge unprecedented for humanity. Victor embarks on an uncertain and dangerous journey that will take him from the vineyards of the Catalonia to the remote landscapes of Turkestan, passing through Paris, Saint Petersburg or the hills of Tuscany.

But he'll soon realize he's not the only one chasing the relic. Who among them will be able to unravel the secrets of the alchemist's wine? And what price will he have to pay for it?

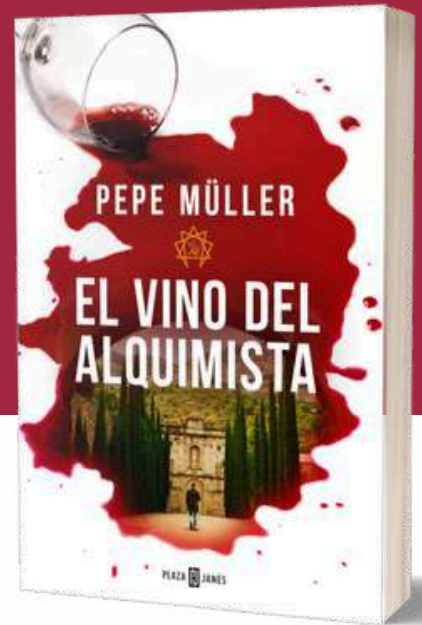

KEY SELLING POINTS

- A thrilling adventure in order to protect humanity from mischievous interests. This same pattern can be found in the great classical adventure's films, like Indiana Jones (a relic that can change the fate of humanity forever, and a frenetic race against an evil corporative enemy), catching more than the lovers of the genre!
- A detailed close-up on the secret societies that have moulded our society, focused on the wine's ones, a product well known and appreciated across the world.

Pepe Müller was born from a German father and a Catalan mother, and grew up in Barcelona. After being educated at the German College, graduated in Chemical Engineering, which led him to manage several companies in the sector and allowed him to travel to almost eighty countries.

EL VALLE DEL HIERRO

(THE IRON VALLEY)

In the 16th century, mysterious disappearances cast fear on the valley's inhabitants, coinciding with ancient guild rivalries.

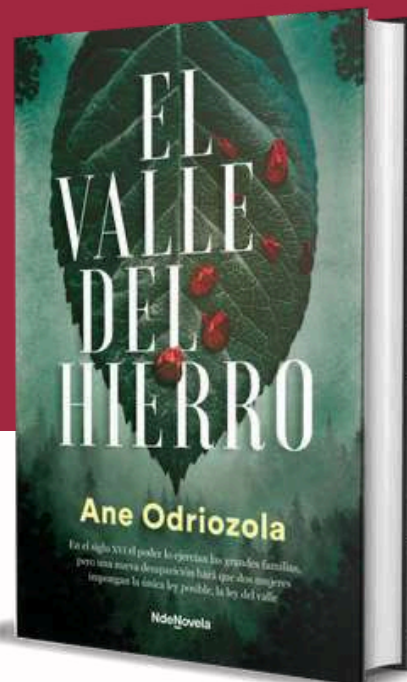

On a rainy night in 1577, Domingo Harria leaves his farmhouse for the Mirandaola ironworks, where the Plazaola family awaits. He never returns. Asencia, his wife, searches for him, but the ironworks owners claim he never arrived. Years later, while the valley forgets Domingo, Asencia remains determined, and Jurdana, a young woman with a mysterious past, enters her life. Jurdana harbors a secret and hopes she won't have to face her past alone.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- "El Valle del Hierro" is a fast-paced historical thriller of drama, love, and mystery, set in the Basque Country's rise to industrial prominence.
- A novel with female protagonists, empowered matriarchs, tough and brave, who want to control their own destiny.
- Since Ane Odriozola comes from the world of self-publishing, she is self-made author and a safe bet for publishers when it comes to seduce the reader.

EL FARO DE LAS RAMBLAS

(THE LIGHTHOUSE OF LAS RAMBLAS)

A novel with echoes of a great classic. A tribute to Barcelona, to vibrant Las Ramblas, and to an exciting love story in which the protagonists must fight against the impossible.

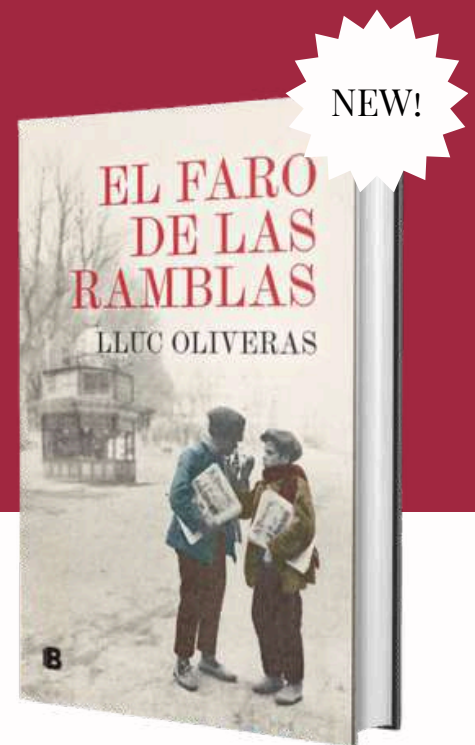

As a child, Lluïset fell in love with the modernist-styled beverage kiosk that lit up the Rambla de Canaletes in the heart of Barcelona. That fascination marked his life and the lives of everyone around him. Years later, he would experience that same feeling upon meeting Laura, intuiting that their lives were destined to be intertwined forever. Alongside them, we will journey through the history of the city and all of Europe over the course of the century, during decades of wars and transformations that will profoundly affect these protagonists and their families, who dwell in the heart of Las Ramblas.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- The story at its core, timeless: it is a story about love that goes beyond social class and spans decades.
- It gives readers a glimpse into the history of Barcelona, shows the reality behind the glitz, and how the city became the cosmopolitan hub it now is.
- Lluç Oliveras' experience in the audiovisual world shines though, making this an easy to read, almost cinematic experience.
- It tells us Lluïset's story, but it also tells the tale of Barcelona, and of Europe during the 19th century,

Lluç Oliveras (Barcelona, 1977) is a writer, screenwriter, director, photographer, and composer. Over more than two decades, he has scripted and directed various documentaries, television programs, and series, as well as the feature film Cuando nada importa, based on his novel Te esperaré en el camino. As an author, he has published numerous works across different genres, notably including two bestsellers and the Rodolfo Walsh Award at the 2011 Gijón Semana Negra for Confesiones de un gánster de Barcelona. His books have been published in Spanish, Catalan, and Italian. Currently, he alternates writing fiction with creating various television formats, working as a script doctor, analyzing audiovisual works, and editing for different publishers. AMALIA: UNA MADRE INCORREGIBLE (AMALIA: AN INCORREGIBLE MOTHER)

Amalia is a bold yet vulnerable woman whose endless energy and charming memory lapses weave an unforgettable tale. The first graphic portrayal of this captivating character from Alejandro Palomas' bestselling series.

Amalia, the protagonist of the successful novel series that began with "A Mother", lives in her own unique universe. She has an utterly original way of understanding things and perceives reality like no one else. Alongside Shirley, a mischievous and spoiled little dog who never leaves her side, they make a formidable duo, navigating daily life as they please—ignoring doctors and disregarding the advice of Silvia, Emma, and Fer—Amalia's human children—who grow increasingly exasperated with each new episode.

For Amalia and Shirley, life is meant to be lived on their own terms, while everyone else seems determined to set limits and make things more complicated for them.

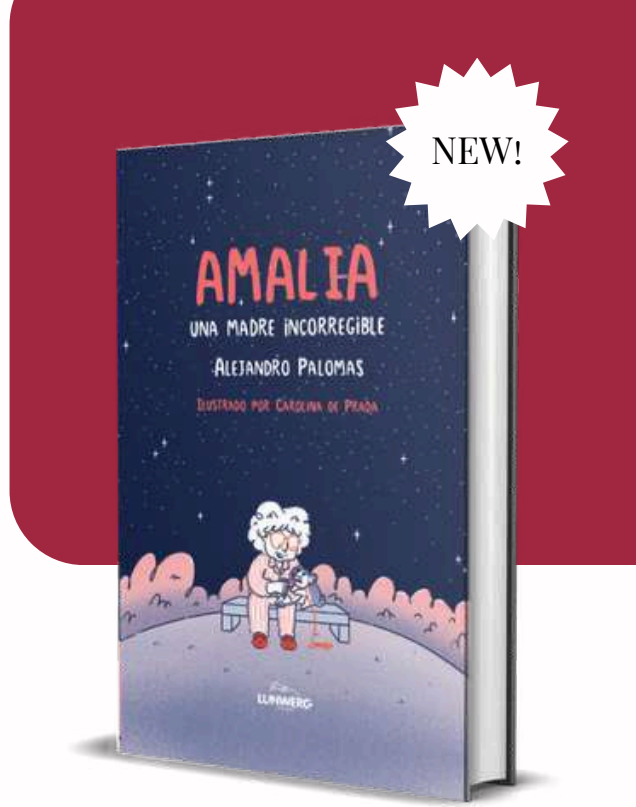

KEY SELLING POINTS

- This graphic novel brings Amalia to life—a truly endearing character in contemporary literature—who, after a decade, has already won over more than 150,000 readers.
- Amalia, the protagonist, is a vibrant and exccentric character, known for her unique perspective on life, her humor, and her ability to bring her family together.
- The bestselling novel "A mother" has been translated to 15 languages and has 15 editions in Spanish.

UNA VIDA (A LIFE)

With his masterful emotional prose, Alejandro Palomas delivers a grand finale to the narrative universe he began with “Una madre” and continued with “Un perro” and “Un amor”, once again presenting us with an intense, lively and vibrant text at his best.

How much does a mother know? As long as mothers are alive, we are first and foremost children. We talk to them when no one is looking because we know they are there, even if we can't see them. We know they are eternal.

On the afternoon that Fer, Emma and Silvia took their mother to the emergency room, suffering from what appeared to be a minor infection, they could not imagine that life had set the stage for something completely unexpected. When they leave the hospital after a short stay, the familiar landscape has changed: the three siblings are suddenly forced to become both children and caregivers as they prepare for the possible orphanhood that may follow the absence of someone as eccentric and irreplaceable as Amalia.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- The Amalia series, the universe composed of the stand-alone books “Una madre”, “Un perro” and “Un amor” together have captivated over 150,000 readers, and translated to 12 languages.
- Palomas has received several literary awards throughout his career, including the Spanish National Literature award.
- Amalia, the protagonist, is a vibrant and eccentric character, known for her unique perspective on life, her humor, and her ability to bring her family together.

UN PERRO (A DOG)

An explosive and touching story where Alejandro Palomas recovers the characters we first met, and those we fell in love with, in A mother.

Sitting in a cafeteria one early summer afternoon, Fer and his mother, Amalia, wait for a call that does not arrive. During the following hours, Fer will do his best to hide what is hidden behind that dreaded call that can shatter the calm that has settled in the family since, being just a puppy, R came into his life. But perhaps this calm is more precarious than it seems. When the phone finally rings, the night will bring with it an unexpected company, and with it will come a torrent of confessions. A dog is not only the portrait of the fascinating bond between a man and his dog, but also a swirl of emotions in which a tender and raw look at the family universe and a tribute to love in all its manifestations converge.

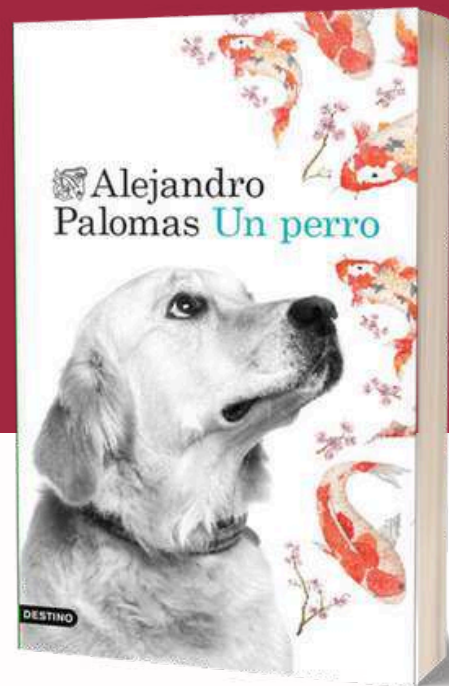

KEY SELLING POINTS

- “Un perro” is a tender, beautifully written reminder that healing often comes in unexpected shapes, and that family is not just who we’re born to, but who we choose to hold close.
- The 2nd printing of “Un Perro” was only 6 days after the book was out!
- Alejandro Palomas is one of Spain’s most celebrated contemporary voices—winner of the Premio Nadal, translated into multiple languages, and acclaimed for his deeply human storytelling.

UNA MADRE (A MOTHER)

A zany yet deeply touching family comedy, reminiscent of Almodóvar.

Una madre tells the story of a dinner, and of the seven attendants who are bound to share the beginnings of a new life none of them are envisioning. With her sense of humor and determination, Amalia weaves a net of invisible threads around the table meant to unite and protect her family. She mends the silences of some, while she channels the present and future of others. She knows that this is going to be a long night: full of secrets and lies, of laughter and crossed fire, and of words held back for too long which will finally explode to enlighten the way to go. She knows this is the time to take action, and she is not willing to let anything get in her way.

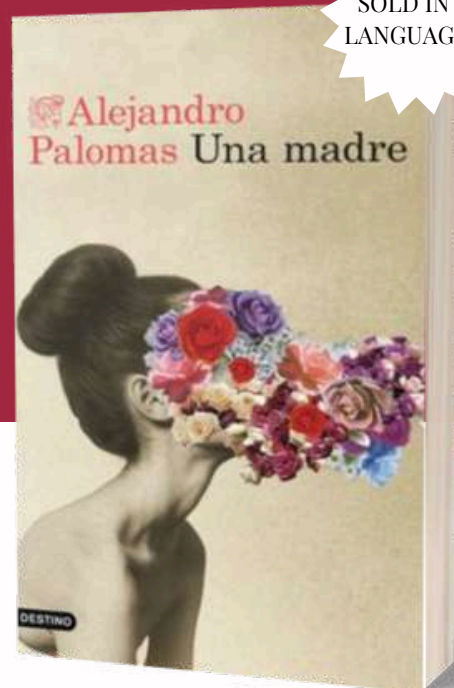

KEY SELLING POINTS

- An intimation of what the human race is capable of proving to itself when its best side comes to the surface.
- Alejandro Palomas is nowadays one of the most visible authors of Spain.
- “Una madre” is the first book of a tematic trilogy, recieving fantastic reviews, with 12 live translations.

EL TIEMPO QUE NOS UNE (THE TIME THAT BENDS US)

A moving multi-generational saga of five women bound by love, secrets, and resilience, who laugh, cry, and feel deeply as they navigate the complexities of family and life.

Grandma Mencia convalesces with her granddaughter, Bea, who does not want to tell what really hurts her. This is the beginning of The Time That Bends Us, a choral novel of female voices, a saga of women with hearts so great that they are capable of harbouring from the deepest love to the greatest suffering. Among the five protagonists of the story, family ties intertwine to form a network that sometimes traps, others embrace and, above all, protects. Mencia, the wise and dishevelled matriarch; Lía, who always stays; Flavia, who lives in absence; Inés, a mother who suffers and lover who laments; and Bea, the youngest, are unforgettable characters, who keep secrets but shout truths, and who feel and laugh and cry.

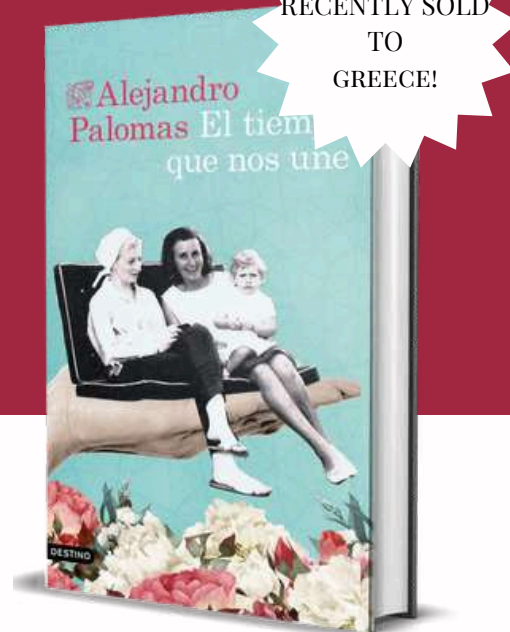

KEY SELLING POINTS

- Being a novel published before his boom, its diffusion in Spain was limited and its impact outside almost inexistent. Nonetheless, it is one of his greatest works, and now that Alejandro has proven his value with spectacular sales, it is the great chance to acquire it.
- Paloma's "A Son", was a mass phenomenon, being translated into 22 languages, and selling around 20.000 copies only in its editions in Spanish. It also deserved him the Joaquim Ruyra award, La Isla de los libros award, and the Spanish National Literature award.

LA IMPORTANCIA DE TU NOMBRE

(THE IMPORTANCE OF YOUR NAME)

A disturbing thriller with a brutal premise: the life of a renowned therapist explodes when she is caught in a stranger's dark psychological game.

Elena Maldonado, a prestigious psychologist, receives a message in which someone assures her that one of her patients is going to be murdered and that she will have to decide which one and how he should die. At first, it seems like a bad joke, but she will soon discover that her anonymous puppeteer knows all her secrets and that, if she does not follow the rules of the game, her daughter will be in grave danger.

The good news is that Elena knows how people's minds work. The bad news is that her stalker's cruelty seems to be totally inhuman. Who is he and why does he hate her so much? How long has he been stalking her? Is she unknowingly sharing her day-to-day life with a sadistic killer?

KEY SELLING POINTS

- A breathtaking psychological thriller with a clear question: Where is the line when it comes to protecting your loved ones?
- A suffocating setting that will stick in the reader's mind for a long time.
- From one of the most fascinating authors of contemporary Spanish thrillers.

EL JUEGO DEL LOBO

EL JUEGO DEL LOBO (THE WOLF'S GAME)

A horror thriller about a brutal murder and a police investigation shrouded in mystery, in a wolf's game where survival or being hunted is the only option.

Rabbits and wolves. It's time to save yourself or be hunted.

Let's play the wolf's game one last time. Who are you?

When four bodies are found in the church of a small northern town, Commissioner Adam de la Cruz and Inspector Bruno Dávila travel to the scene to assist in the investigation. Everything points to suicide, but one of the victims has a message written on their leg: "Hello, Commissioner de la Cruz." Someone seems to be one step ahead of the police. The investigation unfolds in a setting full of mysteries, just as the town is about to celebrate its harvest festival. The past connects more than one suspect and is linked to an orphanage, the Rous pavilion, and what happened at one hundred and eight steps.

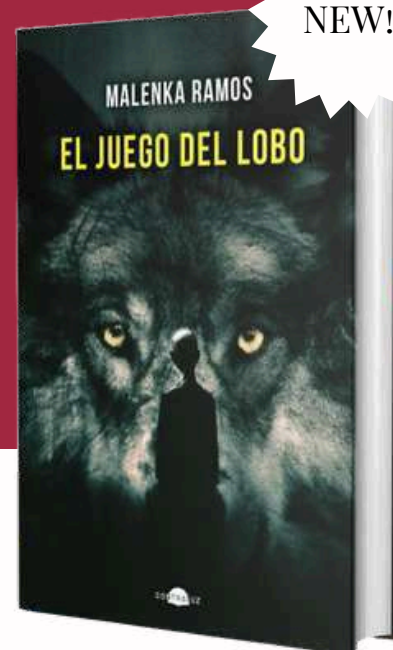

A terrifying game. It's time to play the wolf's game. It's time to remember.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- The author, Malenka Ramos, reached the number 1 spot on Amazon with her book "Los crímenes de Hamlet", and has been published in Spain, Portugal, Brazil and Russia.
- A novel with a touch of terror, intrigue, and suspense—perfect for horror fans craving the thrills of this booming genre.

Malenka Ramos was born in Oviedo, where she currently lives. She began writing mystery and horror novels at a very young age. EL ASESINO DE LA MÁSCARA NOH (THE MURDERER OF THE NOH MASK)

A macabre fiction thriller that blends mystery and horror, all intertwined with Japanese culture elements.

An unusual case has disoriented the police of Barcelona: in the tunnel of an abandoned metro station, a body appears in conditions difficult to explain and harder to believe. The corpse has had part of its face ripped off and a mask from the traditional Noh theatre in Japan has been put in its place. When the police unit in charge of the case is trying to understand what has led a person to commit such a crime, a second body appears in similar conditions. Next to her, lies the documentation of the ex-girlfriend of inspector Andreu Martí, who will face the most difficult case of his career.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- Ramos is able to create an exciting crime story around a Japanese folk element. This is a very shocking contrast when murders occur in the antipodes of Japan, hooking the reader until the whole truth is revealed.
- Ramos reached the NUMBER 1 SPOT ON AMAZON THE WEEK in 2023 with her book "LOS CRÍMENES DE HAMLET", and has been published in Spain, Portugal, Brazil and Russia.

SONÓ UN VIOLÍN EN PARÍS

(A VIOLIN WAS HEARD IN PARIS)

A group of privileged tourists embarks on their Grand Tour across Europe in the late 19th century, all the while having their secrets unveiled through a weekly bulletin titled Le Petit Journal.

In September 1893, Don Guillermo Bogarín organizes a meticulous tour through newly unified Italy, Austria-Hungary, and the German Empire for a select group of travelers. Among them are architect Jacobo Figueroa, businessman Juan Álvarez-Caballero, impressionist painter Ferdinand Mercier, theater producer Jeanne Leroy with her nephew Henri Collet, Russian Countess Karimova, music publisher Mrs. Dupont, and virtuoso violinist Clara Balaguer. While Don Guillermo has his own reasons for leaving Paris, he soon learns the group harbors secrets, as a social column “Le Petit Journal” begins to reveal their affairs. María Reig’s historical novel explores the tensions of fin-de-siècle Europe and the need to confront our fears and take control of our lives.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- Her debut novel surprised everyone by selling over 80,000 copies, introducing us to a young historical fiction author who burst onto the industry to stay.
- In true Gossip Girl or Bridgerton style, a renowned Parisian newspaper holds privileged information about the travelers – friendship, rivalry, obsession, admiration, and romance.
- What seems like a simple bourgeois adventure will ultimately become an experience that completely changes the lives of the selected travelers.
- An immersion into Grand Tours and the beginnings of tourism that offers a glimpse into travel during that era.

María Reig studied Journalism and a Master’s in Corporate Communication Management.

In 2018, she decided to self-publish her first novel, Papel y Tinta. She launched a crowdfunding campaign to finance the marketing and communication plan she had designed for the release, and in less than 24 hours, she reached her funding goal. The campaign’s success of the campaign gained her access to the publishing world. Papel y Tinta reached bookstores in January 2019, published by Suma de Letras. With it, she won the Debut Literary Prize “Un Año de Libros” from El Corte Inglés. Since then, she has published two other novels. The past few years, she has been balancing her work as a novelist with studying for her History Degree, which she began in order to gain more knowledge and refine her skills as a historical fiction writer.

MAÑANA ACABARÁ TODO (TOMORROW WILL BE OVER)

From renowned thriller author Susana Rodríguez Lezaun, this powerful war novel is her first step into literary fiction.

Fyodor still remembers the first day he arrived at that brothel lost in the Yugoslavian plain and it ended up being the only place he ever considered home. Five years of war have passed since he left that house, which he now returns to, hoping to rebuild it from the ashes. In this unique and desolate setting, he will share his daily life with two strangers, a newborn, an old friend fleeing her past, and Rita, the former madame of the brothel, who bears the shadow of fear etched into her eyes. Gathered around the kitchen table and isolated from the devastation, they will, for a moment, resemble a family willing to do the unimaginable to survive.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- Set during the Yugoslav War, the novel offers a fresh perspective on a moment seldom explored in literature.
- The novel addresses pain, hope, and resilience, connecting with all types of readers, beyond just fans of historical fiction.
- Susana Rodríguez Lezaun, with a successful background in thriller brings authenticity and expertise to "Mañana acabará todo," ensuring a compelling and credible portrayal of the time period.

EN LA SANGRE (IN THE BLOOD)

With a fiercely complex protagonist and a plot that unravels across the misty borderlands of France and Navarre, this novel is a masterclass in psychological tension.

Inspector Pieldelobo is still in the crosshairs with her superiors at the Pamplona police station after irregularities committed in the resolution of a triple murder case related to a powerful Opus Dei family. An national-scale operation against a drug trafficking ring takes a turn for the worse when young Elur Amézaga is found murdered. Elur was a police informer and girlfriend to a prominent local leader of the Basque nationalist party. The evidence points to Inspector Fernando Ribas, Marcela's friend and former lover and mentor but she refuses to believe that Ribas, for all his faults, is corrupt. Once again, she will have to follow her instinct and follow a dangerous path that will put her life in danger in the foggy lands of the berder region between France and Navarre.

BAJO LA PIEL (BENEATH THE SKIN)

An unconventional inspector who is ready to break the rules in order to save the day.

Inspector Marcela Pieldelobo is difficult to deal with. She is convinced that orders are open to interpretation, and that closed doors can be unlocked if one knows how to.

In BAJO LA PIEL, her past will come back to haunt her in the form of her abusive father reappearing after her mother's passing. But she has bigger fish to fry, like her current case, one about an abandoned baby found in a solitary parking lot and a bloody, banged up car whose driver mysteriously vanished.

When all the threads lead to a company owned by one of the most influential families in the region, her superiors take her off the case... But Marcela is determined to go further, even at the expense of her life.

SARAH, MEREIXES SABER-HO (SARAH YOU DESERVE TO KNOW)

An addictive thriller in style of Thelma & Louise that tells the story of two women seeking revenge against male violence.

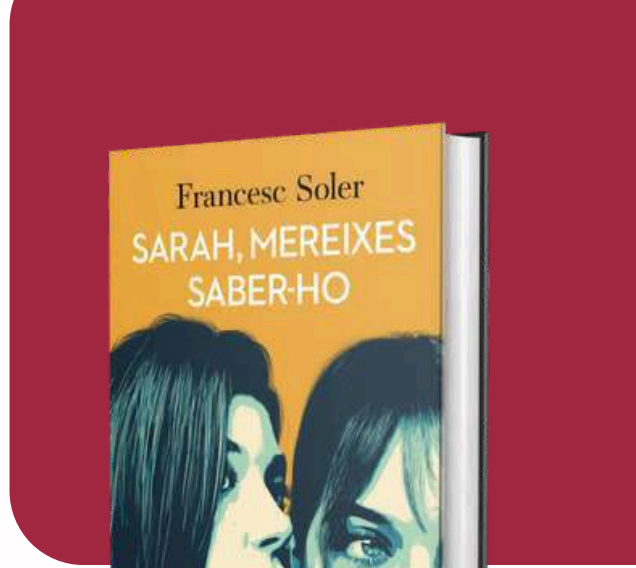

Sara's life is nothing like she wished it was. Her boss sexually harasses her and her mother is constantly reminding her of her failures. But one morning, on her way to work, she overhears a guy bragging about cheating on his girlfriend Sarah, and the other Sara decides to post what she thought would be a harmless tweet about it. This will set off a chain reaction of unimaginable consequences for both her and the other Sarah. Though both women may initially seem like polar opposites, they will discover they share emotional wounds and, above all, an unyielding determination to survive and find happiness at any cost.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- Both protagonists, well-developed and easily relatable.
- It tackles very current issues: how social media can have massive, unexpected consequences in people's lives, and also, the matter of female empowerment and the need to fight to be respected.
- This mystery thriller will captivate both genre enthusiasts and a broader audience with its intriguing plot and deep characters.

EL SOMRIURE DELS DOFINS (THE SMILE OF THE DOLPHINS)

A brilliant coming-of-age novel: A story about initiation, the discovery of the world and of one's identity

Francesc is finally released from prison after being convicted for being a homosexual, and he begins to reminisce his teenage years and that nightclub toilet where he was found dressed as a woman having sex with another boy.

This is a story about a sensitive and loving child condemned to grow up in the oppressive environment of a small town during the 1980s and 1990s, and how he was able to overcome the pain and celebrate life thanks to his friendship with two fantastic women, his love for books and his capacity for resilience.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- A piece of self-fiction that explores queer people's experience from the 1980's until the present day.
- A story that opens up dialogue between the past and present, and about the cultural legacy that our LGBTIQ+ predecessors have left us.
- An unmissable fictionalized autobiography about desire.
- Now is in its second edition!

NEKO CAFÉ

A woman afraid of cats takes a job at a cat café and discovers that they are not as bad as she thought, and that each cat might have something to teach her about life.

Nagore's life has been going downhill: she broke up with her partner and was sacked from her job. Then, an old friend finds her an unusual job: waitressing at the Neko Café, a café where seven cats hope to find an owner among the clients who come in. Nursing a childhood fear of cats, Nagore immediately declines. But soon, desperation drives her to sign a month-long trial contract. It becomes a transforming experience after the first few days. Each one of the seven inhabitants of the Neko Café ("neko" meaning "cat" in Japanese) presents her with a key to the art of living, until it begins to turn her life around.

The ultimate comfort book, a cozy and cute story that will warm your heart like a cup of coffee on a cold winter morning. It will make you purr with joy!

LO PROHIBIDO (FORBIDDEN)

A romance novel about a young literature teacher who falls in love with a convict—a forbidden love in a new subgenre: prison romance.

Have you ever asked yourself if you would fall in love with a prisoner? Do you believe that love overcomes any prejudice? Cora Quiroga did.

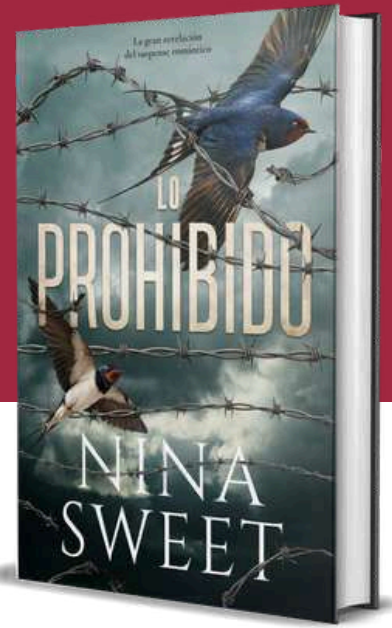

Cora, a young professor, lives in Pontevedra with her boyfriend Mason Brown, a promising lawyer. After Roque gets a new job, the couple moves to Madrid, where Cora meets Roque a man imprisoned for killing a young man, but who claims to be innocent. Very quickly, a special chemistry starts to build between them and has Cora rethinking her entire life. The irrepressible desire that the convict awakens in her puts her at a crossroads. Should Cora follow her heart and gamble on a forbidden relationship with an incarcerated man? First, she will need to be sure of Roque's innocence and face Mason's wrath.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- The ultimate forbidden love story: one between a teacher and an accused murderer. Lo Prohibido blend exquisite angst with a thrilling mystery plot to keep readers engaged.
- The chemistry swoon worthy, which makes it perfect for romance novel lovers.
- However, it doesn't skimp on substance: there is rich character development, and self-discovery.

Nina Sweet lives on her villa on the shores of the Mediterranean Sea surrounded by her animals and nature. She has been writing since she was a child and has always considered herself a romantic spirit, very passionate, but with a hint of irreverence. She is a passionate reader, and before she began writing novels she experimented with poetry and other artforms such as ballet and theater. She currently spends her days with her partner, writing, surrounded by jazz music, blues, a wood-burning fireplace and good wine. It is the heteronym under which the author Paz Castelló signs her romantic suspense novels.

FERNANDO BELASTEGUÍN: ESTA ES MI HISTORIA

(FERNANDO BELASTEGUÍN: THIS IS MY STORY)

The incredible biography of Fernando Belasteguín, who was the number one Padel player for sixteen consecutive years.

"Many times I ask myself if it's worth continuing to play padel, if all the sacrifices I've had to make have been worth it: being away from my parents, my sister and my grandparents. Leaving my country, Argentina to compete in a different place every two weeks, missing countless moments (good and bad) with my wife and three children... Today, I would say it was absolutely worth it. Padel is my livelihood and sustains my family. However, if you asked me again near the end of my career, the answer would most likely be a resounding 'no,' because I have given padel a thousand times more than it has given me. There is no tournament, no title, no prize that can make up for all I have missed".

TIME MINDFULNESS

A guide on how to take control of your time and lead a more prosperous and fulfilling life.

After inspiring the world with Money Mindfulness, Economist Cristina Benito shows us how to manage the most valuable currency that we possess: time. People who do not have control of their time also do not have a good relationship with their money. There is a reason why the popular proverb says time is money.

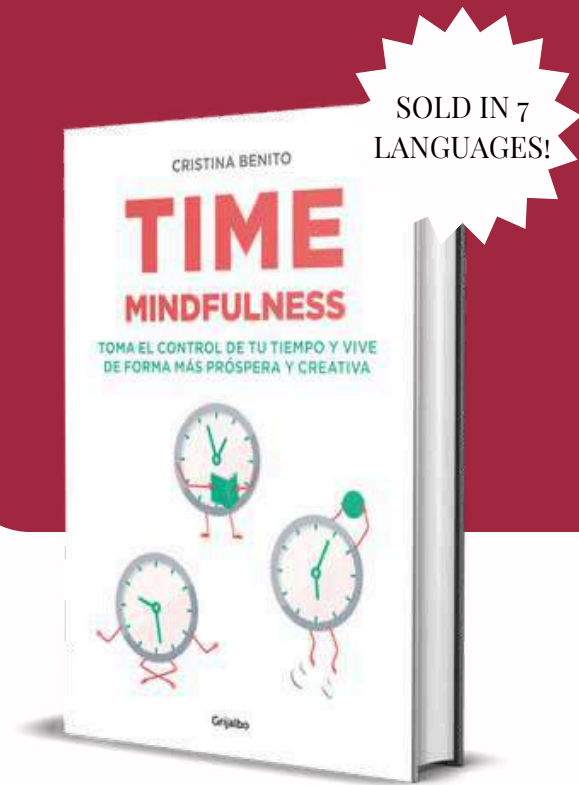

However, another negative consequence of poor time management is a state of permanent stress which is responsible for a wide range of illnesses, as well as being an obstacle to enjoying life. Then thirdly, when the lack of time becomes chronic and we are always running from one emergency to another, we give up on what is truly important to us, continually postponing our fundamental priorities.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- Through practical advice, Cristina will forever change your perspective on time management and help you learn how to make the most of it.
- TIME MINDFULNESS follows the trend she began with MONEY MINDFULNESS. Because after all, money is time.
- A celebrated author with international reach, Benito's first book, "Money Mindfulness" has been translated into 12 languages.

EL PLAN B

A powerful guide to help young people choose hope over despair.

Suicide and deep hopelessness are increasingly present realities in our society—and young people are among the most deeply affected. We cannot look away from this urgent truth. That's why it's essential to have tools that help us support them in rebuilding hope, developing life skills, and becoming part of a safety net that guides them toward a more hopeful future.

Talking about suicide is frightening—terrifying, even—especially when it involves young people. Whether you're a parent, teacher, healthcare worker, social professional, or simply a friend, the topic can feel overwhelming. But when the opportunity to talk arises, so does the chance to build a bridge, to buy precious time, and to start shaping a roadmap toward a different place—one that is gentler, more welcoming, and where happiness feels possible again.

That's the essence of Plan B, the proposal of this book: to help make that Plan B become Plan A.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- When Plan A is despair, this book offers a Plan B that can save lives.
- Talking about suicide is hard. This book makes it possible — and transformative.
- Hope is revolutionary. Support is life-saving. This book is both.
- Written by a social worker with extensive experience specializing in youth mental health, offering expert insight and real-world understanding.

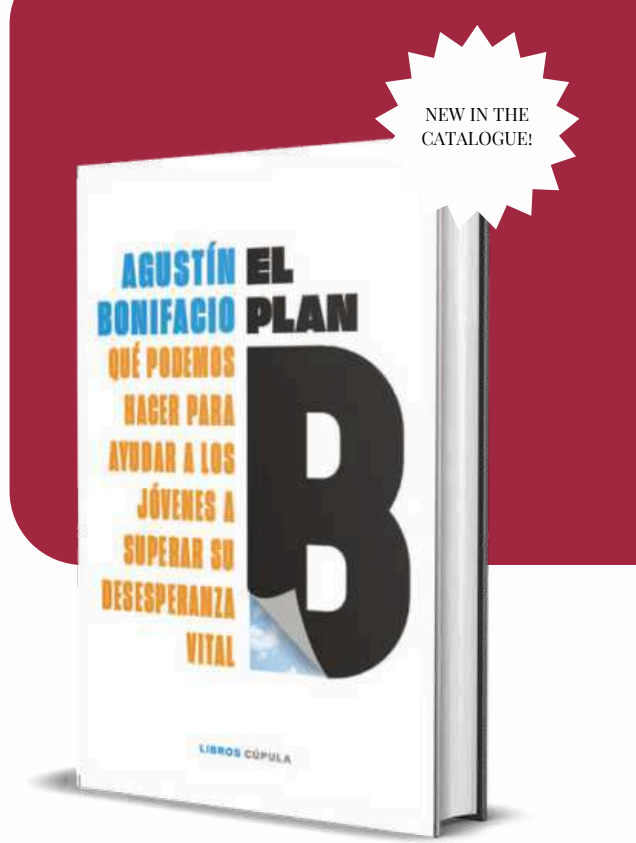

Agustín Bonifacio Guillén (or Agustín Kong, as he's known on social media) works at a tertiary-level hospital, teaches at the university, and although he struggled to learn how to write as a child, once he managed it, he couldn't stop.

The son of dreamers and grandson of the wisest man in the world (though he didn't know any of that at first), he considers himself an all-terrain storyteller and communicator.

He has navigated poetry, blogging (for fifteen years he maintained the Hong Kong Blues blog on HOLA.com, becoming a pioneer in the field), short stories, and novels—winning several awards for his writing.

Through his words, he seeks to spark reflection through humor, support vulnerable communities, share discoveries, and of course, move and entertain.

EL SOBREPESO EMOCIONAL (EMOTIONAL OVERWEIGHT)

The book offers strategies for breaking free from 'emotional overweight', which includes food addiction, food cravings and fear of gaining weight.

It proposes a holistic approach to acquiring new habits that promote a healthy relationship with the body and food.

In an age when people's weight has once again taken over social commentary, thinking about weight can begin to drain our mental energy.

The problem is that our emotions, thoughts, and beliefs (which we often cannot control) have a direct impact on how we assimilate, digest and burn calories. Therefore, no matter how many diets we start, results will probably not be what we expect them to be unless we manage to work on our emotional well-being. Bea Campos and Anna Sibel set out to write a book to help people free themselves from emotional overweight, food addiction, anxiety about eating and fear of gaining weight.

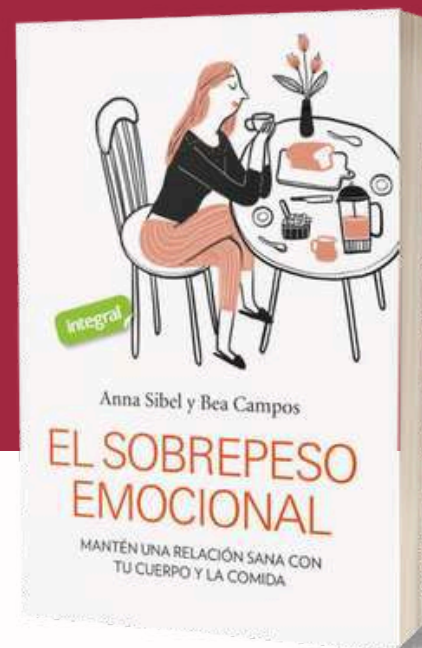

KEY SELLING POINTS

- In the era of groundbreaking weight-loss drugs such as Ozempic, Campos and Sibel's message about taking care of your emotional health to lose weight is more important than ever.
- The issue of obsessing over body weight mainly affects women, but men are beginning to feel the pressure too, which makes this a timely book that can help anyone, not just women.

Bea Campos studied engineering, nutrition and became a certified dietitian. During her childhood, she often suffered mistreatment from others and eating was the only way she felt good. Later, she realized she had to change her coping mechanisms, and with hard work, managed to change her habits. She has 20 years of experience helping people on their way to healthier habits.

Anna Sibel has a Master's Degree in Child, Adolescent and Adult Psychiatry and Psychology. She was honoured with the National Psychiatry Award for her research on obesity. Workplace stress is becoming an increasingly alarming global issue. Many feel overwhelmed by the incredible number of pending tasks they must take care of, or because of the pressure they feel to do more... For many, this feeling has become the first symptom of significant mental or physical health problems. This is what we know as "burnout syndrome."

To tackle such a concerning issue, it is essential to investigate the causes of this phenomenon and learn the tools that help us address it scientifically and empathetically. In this book, psychiatrist Carlos Cenalmor introduces the CIMA method, the result of his personal experience and expertise, to combat workplace burnout.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- Learn how to regain your energy, protect your health, and reconnect with life.
- Burnout is a highly relevant and timely concept in today's world. Dr. Cenalmor, a psychiatrist and expert on the subject, suffered from it himself, and offers important testimony on the matter.
- Dr. Carlos Cenalmor is very active on social media and has over 10,000 followers on Instagram and 30,000 on YouTube.

Dr. Carlos Cenalmor has a medicine degree and is specialist in Psychiatry. He obtained a Master's Degree in Integrative Humanistic Psychotherapy from the Galene Institute. After suffering two burnout crises, he began working with health professionals before and during the COVID pandemic to help them manage their mental health and avoid burnout. He created specific training for this problem with the Galene Institute ('Psychological tools for healthcare professionals', 'Stress and emotion management for healthcare professionals' among others). In the last year and a half, he has been spreading the word on the subject of burnout to the general public.

SÍ A (CASI) TODO (YES TO (ALMOST) EVERYTHING)

Stay away from empty self-help and focus on what you really master, turning with less effort your flaws into virtues

In a world where everyone pushes you to pursue more, to accumulate more "successful habits", here is the truth: you are already have what you need to succeed. You don't need to reinvent yourself. You need to know and take full advantage of what you already have.

Of course, not all habits people develop are great, but in this book anxiety expert Ferran Cases explains why it might not be a bad thing to watch four chapters of a series before going to sleep. Your likes and dislikes might be your most powerful weapon, and you don't have to feel bad about them. A guide to learning how to be the best you without changing yourself.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- A most-necessary book on self-help, that consciously avoids the hollow talk that usually contaminates the genre, focusing on strengthening the virtues readers already have, and might not be aware of.
- Ferran is the author of bestselling books like "EL CEREBRO DE LA GENTE FELIZ", and "EL PEQUEÑO GRAN LIBRO DE LA ANSIEDAD". Furthermore, he has already achieved international success, being published in 11 territories including Italy, Brazil, and Russia.

UN RIVAL IMPREDECIBLE

(AN UNPREDICTABLE RIVAL)

Part sports memoir, part real-life adventure, this book follows Carlos Cuadrado — an emerging star who, after reaching glory and losing everything, sold all his belongings, bought a sailboat, and set off to sail around the world.

Carlos Cuadrado picked up a tennis racket at age seven and never looked back—training relentlessly until, at eighteen, he won the Roland Garros Junior title by a landslide. His future was set, until a string of injuries ended his career and shattered his self-image and his dreams.

In search of a new path, he decided to sell everything he owned and buy a sailboat. He then set off alone to circumnavigate the world with barely any sailing experience. Along the way, Carlos faced violent storms, seas haunted by pirates, and crushing solitude, but also had the privilege to encounter inspiring cultures and moments of deep clarity and self-discovery.

This is more than a story of survival—it's a raw, inspiring story of transformation, where every wave becomes a test, and every challenge, a chance to begin again.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- Goes beyond action to explore the emotional landscape of solitude, transformation, and what it means to start over.
- Few memoirs combine elite-level sports with true open-ocean adventure.
- Explores the emotional rollercoaster of solitude.

Carlos Cuadrado is a former professional tennis player and elite-level coach who saw his career cut short by injuries which forced him into an early retirement. In 2012, searching for a new direction, he moved to Australia, where he built a career as a high-performance tennis coach. In 2017, the void left by tennis led him to an even greater challenge: to sail around the world with barely any sailing experience. Now, he sails around the world.

GENIOTIPO (GENIOTYPE)

A book about learning to recognize your own talent to become the best version of yourself.

Loving what we do is the secret to achieve great things in life, and it is necessary to know where our passion and genius lies. Nobody is good at everything, but everyone is great at something, because we all have a gift that makes us unique. That is what Estruch calls the "geniotype".

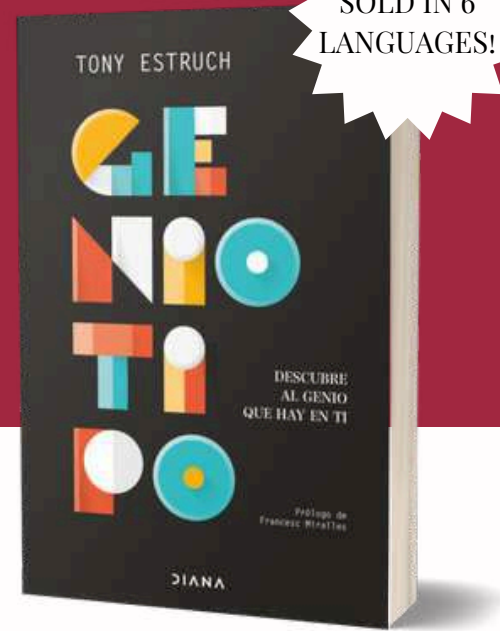

Discovering our "geniotype" is the key to developing our abilities to the fullest, and a key component in the journey to being successful and achieving life goals.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- After ten years of research on human talent in collaboration with experts from multiple disciplines, Tony Estruch presents the revolutionary theory of the "geniotype", a self-knowledge tool intended to change the field of personal development.
- A hit in Spain that has been reprinted six times!
- To find our "geniotype", we must identify our innate aptitudes, and this book, with numerous practical examples, anecdotes and questionnaires, offers us all the keys to achieve it.

Tony Estruch was born in 1981 and is a musician by training. At the age of 19 he founded the first of three companies. Over the years, it grew and he ended up managing a team of more than one hundred people. From his experience as an entrepreneur, manager and artist he came up with the concept of "geniotype", and he has dedicated the last ten years of his life to researching and developing it in collaboration with a team of professionals and experts in personal development.

EL MÉTODO TOKEI (THE TOKEI METHOD)

Discover practical and accessible tips for adjusting daily routines and reconnecting with the body's natural rhythms.

Thousands of years ago humans were harmonically connected to nature's cycles, and this key element helped us regulate our bodies and our minds. However, nowadays we tend to dismiss our internal clocks called TOKEI, responsible for appetite, sleep, energy or fatigue. This may make us more prone to cardiovascular problems, metabolic diseases such as obesity or diabetes, mental health issues, or in the worst cases might increase the chance of developing certain types of cancer.

The TOKEI method, based on chronobiology, aims to help us listen to our bodies and reconnect with its natural rhythms. Its easy recommendations will help us synchronize our Tokei to enjoy a life full of optimism and health.

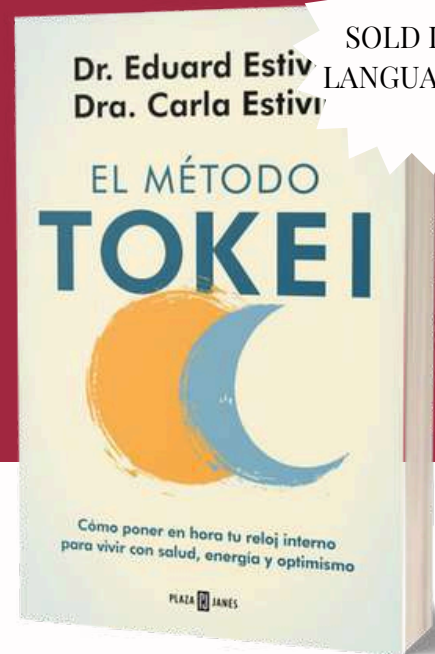

KEY SELLING POINTS

- Dr. Eduard Estivill is the author of "Go to Sleep, baby" with more than 3 million copies sold and translated into 17 languages.
- This book offers an insight into how re-syncing our biological clocks with nature's rhythms can help us lead healthier lives.

Dr. Eduard Estivill has a degree in Medicine and Surgery from the University of Barcelona, specializing in Clinical Neurophysiology and Pediatrics. An international reference in this discipline, he is the author of more than two hundred publications in scientific journals. He has published, among others, the book "Duérmete, niño", which has sold more than three million copies and has been translated into fifteen languages.

DESAYUNO CON PARTÍCULAS (BREAKFAST WITH PARTICLES)

Because understanding quantum theory is better
through breakfast

Quantum theory is one of the most beautiful and amazing theories in science. It is, for many, the theory of everything. However, it can be tough to grasp its basic concepts. As we enter the quantum world, our beliefs about reality, including our everyday reality, are challenged. This book helps people understand hard-to-grasp concepts and learn about the universe in a fun way.

Sonia Fernández-Vidal, writer and Doctor in Quantum Physics, and Francesc Miralles, writer and journalist, invite us to have breakfast with Newton, Einstein, Heisenberg and other great physicists from history.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- The book brings the general public closer to modern physics through explanations that can be easily followed.
- Sonia Fernández-Vidal is a renowned doctor in Quantum Physics who has worked in the world's most prestigious research centers.
- She is also among the 100 most creative people according to Forbes, and the author of the bestseller middle-grade trilogy La Puerta de los tres cerrojos, which has been translated to 17 languages.

Sonia Fernández-Vidal (Barcelona, 1978) received a Physics degree from the Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona and a PhD on Information and Quantum Optics. She combines her research with teaching, another one of her passions, and giving lectures about Introduction to Quantum Physics to non-academic audiences. She has published two books of fiction using her scientific knowledge, to great success: one for crossover audiences, "Quantic Love", and the middle grade series "La puerta de los tres cerrojos".

TESLA Y EINSTEIN JUEGAN AL AJEDREZ

(TESLA AND EINSTEIN PLAY CHESS)

This book explores the dichotomy between invention (Tesla) and discovery (Einstein) through many inventions by different great inventors and many discoveries by various renowned scientists.

While invention is the process of creating something new from scratch, discovery is the process of finding something that already exists in nature. We see how, in many cases, these two processes are closely related, with one often leading to the other. This book engagingly analyzes the similarities and differences between invention and discovery, and how they have been applied in modern science and technology. It highlights the duality between the creative process of invention (Tesla) and the scientific process of discovery (Einstein), with each chapter exploring an invention and how it relates to one or more scientific discoveries. Like a game of chess, but with the key difference that in every case, both players win.

KEY SELLING POINTS

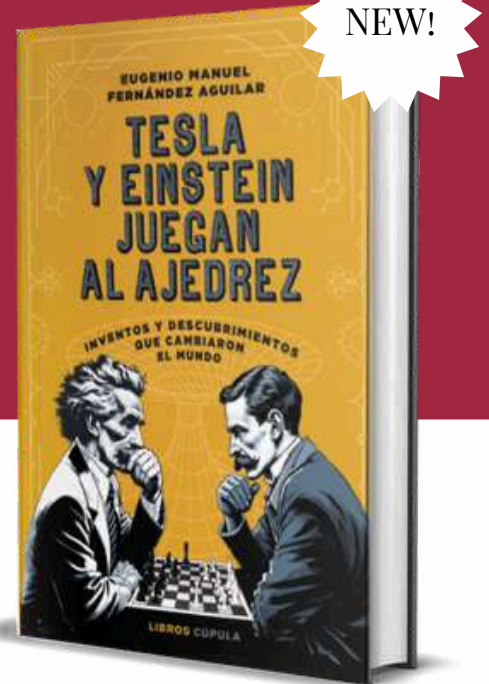

- A delightful educational science book that explains major inventions and discoveries by various scientists that have changed the world.
- A true tribute to science and technology, offering an extra dose of culture.
- Eugenio Fernández, a Physics graduate, has been high school science teacher for many years and is now author of science and math textbooks for various publishers.

Eugenio Manuel Fernández-Aguilar has a degree in Physics and currently works as a secondary school science teacher. He is also a member of the team of authors of science textbooks for several publishing houses.

Eugene has given numerous conferences, courses, lectures and workshops on the popularization of science. He has also published several books in this field, including three scientific biographies translated into Italian, French, Portuguese and Russian.

Also, Eugenio has participated with his poems in several anthologies and constantly updates his blogs "Science in the XXI" and "Black and White science".

HISTORIOGRAMA (HISTORIOGRAM)

A refreshing take on self-betterment: Authors Gabriel and Luis García de Oro want to teach you how to take control of your own story.

There has been increasing discussion regarding Storytelling, the art of telling stories that also serves to sell a product, a project, or oneself. In fact, each person repeats certain stories to themselves, and within that narrative lies the limits of their life.

From classic folklore tales like Little Red Riding Hood, or contemporary blockbuster series like Stranger Things, stories reflect a culture's beliefs and aspirations. However, sometimes they can affect our unconscious, and become a pull we cannot escape. Unless we identify their power and learn how to change our mentality. In HISTORIOGRAMA, authors Gabriel and Luís García de Oro detail twelve "storygrams" that might allow readers to identify why certain things happen to them and take control of the narrative of their lives.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- A refreshing take on self-betterment: how to take control of your own story.
- Discusses a topic most readers might not be familiar with: storytelling as a tool to grow a business or make your life better.
- Gabriel is a bestselling author of both children's and adult's books. His works have been translated into over four languages

Luís García de Oro creativity, teaching, and storytelling are the three passions that have defined Luis's life throughout his career. He works as a Creative Director at Ogilvy Barcelona and combines it with teaching at various schools and universities.

Gabriel García de Oro Although he graduated in Philosophy, he ended up working in advertising, a field where he has won a number of awards. EL PEQUEÑO IKIGAI (IKIGAI FOR YOUNG READERS)

After the worldwide success of Ikigai for adults, we finally have the adaptation geared towards younger readers and their issues.

Young people are often taught to work hard for a goal rather than focusing on what they really want. This often causes them to set aside their real desires and motivations.

Ikigai for Young Readers is intended to combat this unfortunate truth, inviting younger ones to think about what it is that really drives them, and how they can find true fulfillment.

LA FUERZA DE SER ALTAMENTE SENSIBLE (THE POWER OF BEING HIGHLY SENSITIVE)

Meritxell García explains why being highly sensitive might be a good thing, and how people can turn their sensitivity into a superpower.

Do you have a keen sense of smell and hear the slightest noise? Do you get overwhelmed in crowded places? Do you notice subtleties that go unnoticed by most people?

If you answered yes, it is possible that you are a highly sensitive person: your neurological wiring is different, you perceive more information through your senses than other people, and you are often overwhelmed by this flood of stimuli. But when you understand how your machinery works, you will discover how high sensitivity can work in your favor.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- A new topic with a lot of attention from the media.
- Offers tips for building up resilience that highly sensitive people to apply in their daily lives.
- A radical take on mental health: this book is a guide for anyone and everyone, so that we may all understand acute sensitivity as a positive value and not as a problem.

Meritxell García Roig is a writer and coach that has trained in empathy and high sensitivity by the Institute of Integrative Nutrition in New York. She accompanies highly sensitive people towards a path of self-knowledge through her method of Empathic Gym to know themselves better and make peace with their sensitivity. She also offers training and personalized consulting to companies, helping them to create an empathic culture and create more innovative teams. Empathy is the key to conflict resolution, creativity, negotiation, networking and genuine human connection, both professionally and personally. She is the author of "El arte de la empatía" (Amat, 2019) and the children's book "En tus zapatos" (La Galera, 2021).

NI ME EXPLICO NI ME ENTIENDES (NEITHER DO I EXPLAIN MYSELF, NOR DO YOU UNDERSTAND ME)

A friendly, realistic, and deeply helpful guide to mastering interpersonal communication and avoiding conflict with others and with oneself.

In our everyday lives, our words have the power to build bridges or, in many cases, raise walls. How many times have we said something that was interpreted completely differently from what we meant? And those conversations that start with a simple “we need to talk” and end up as an epic disaster? Xavier Guix, author “The Problem of Being Too Good”, takes us by the hand through the intricacies of human communication: an art that, despite practicing it daily, often becomes one of the most difficult skills to master. With his approachable yet precise style, full of clarity, Guix helps us understand how our emotions, body language, first impressions, and even the roles we assume unconsciously influence our relationships.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- A practic and simple guide that reveals why it's so hard for us to understand each other—and, most importantly, what we can do to fix it.
- With a simple language, close and with many examples and suggestions , by an expert in Clinical Psychopathology and a bestselling author.
- His book “El problema de ser demasiado bueno” has been translated into 4 languages and reached #1 on the non-fiction bestseller list.

Xavier Guix holds a degree in Psychology, a master's in Contemporary Thought and Classical Tradition, and a postgraduate degree in Clinical Psychopathology from the University of Barcelona.

Alongside his therapeutic work at Kairós Institut, he teaches self-awareness courses at various universities and leading organizations such as Kuestiona and the Fundació Àmbit, among others. He is the founder of the "Existential Entrepreneurs" movement and is part of the team driving the "Kindness in Action" project.

As a speaker and communicator specializing in practical psychology, he has written fourteen highly successful books published in Spain, Latin America, Portugal, and Italy. He also contributes to various spanish media outlets.

EL PROBLEMA DE SER DEMASIADO BUENO

(THE PROBLEM OF BEING TOO GOOD)

A handy manual for those who are kind for everyone but themselves to take back the reins of their lives.

There is a group of people who often identify with the label of "good people". They are obedient and perfectionists. They do everything right, except when they don't. Failing can suddenly send them into a spiral they cannot escape. This happens when you are good to everyone but yourself.

In this book, Xavier Guix breaks down "bad goodness", its neuroticisms, its rigidity, and the consequences it can have. He also offers useful exercises to break free of these patterns and move towards a more genuine, flexible lifestyle. All in an easy, approachable manner with illustrative examples.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- Partially inspired by Nietzsche's philosophy, this book addresses one of the key factors of unhappiness in our society.
- Featuring accessible, simple language and many examples that help people apply the principles described in the book. all designed by an expert in Clinical Psychopathology.

CAMBIA TU VIDA CON JANE AUSTEN (CHANGE YOUR LIFE WITH JANE AUSTEN)

In the year of Jane Austen's 250th anniversary, an essential book in the style of Allan Percy's bestsellers —offering timeless wisdom to transform your life, inspired by Jane Austen.

Jane Austen upheld values like integrity, freedom, self-respect, and love, boldly challenging the restrictions of her time. She refused marriages of convenience despite social pressures and criticized injustices, particularly those affecting women, as seen in her novels. Claire Tomalin describes her as a woman of great moral courage, while David Nokes highlights her commitment to being true to herself. Though society has changed, the essence remains the same—like Austen, we strive for independence, recognition, love, and happiness while navigating societal pressures, which today are intensified by technology and social media. In this practical guide, we will learn about some unexpected lessons which Jane Austen offered to us.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- In this book, you will discover amazing tools and self-help advice that feel as if Jane Austen herself is offering them to you in person, guiding you through modern life with her timeless wisdom.
- In the pure style of Allan Percy's bestsellers guides as Nietzsche para estresados or Kafka para agobiados.

Carla Gracia (Barcelona, 1980) holds a degree in Communication Sciences from the Universitat Ramon Llull, a postgraduate degree in Conflict Management and Resolution and an international MBA. She has published several books of essays. In 2014 saw the light of day her first novel, Seven Days of Grace, which was translated into Italian and Polish. For this work she received the Alghero Donna Prize for literature and journalism in the international section of the Rome Book Fair. She currently teaches writing at the Laboratori de Lletres, as an associate professor at the Universitat Internacional de Catalunya (UIC). Carla Gracia has been the first Spanish writer to be accepted into the prestigious PhD in Creative Writing at Bath Spa University, one of the most respected universities in the arts and creative writing in the world.

PLAYFULNESS (PLAYFULNESS)

A revealing book that challenges the way we live, work, and relate to each other. Playfulness is not just an invitation to play: it is a call to rediscover joy as a transformative force.

The current mental health crisis in society is just the tip of the iceberg. In search of a way to awaken from the trance, more and more people are turning to mindfulness courses. But, is there be an alternative that's a little less boring? Eduardo Jáuregui invites us to play and practice PLAYFULNESS.

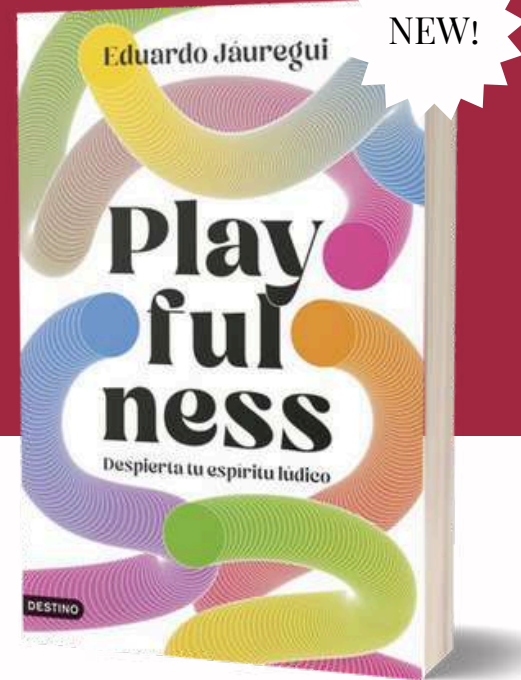

Psychologist Eduardo Jáuregui invites us to explore a previously uncharted territory: a new way of looking at the world through a playful spirit. Grounded in solid science, this approach will captivate not only mindfulness and personal growth enthusiasts, but also lovers of art, music, philosophy, sports, and all the wonderfully “useless” activities that define our true humanity.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- It teaches us that playing is not just for children: it is a fundamental human need, with proven benefits for mental health.
- Rediscovering the spirit of playfulness as a tool for personal and social transformation.
- A psychologist and expert in mindfulness, combines scientific rigor and an approachable language to demonstrate that it's not just child's play, but a tool for personal growth.

Eduardo Jáuregui is a psychologist with a PhD in political and social sciences, with a doctoral thesis on laughter and humor. He is the director of the mindfulness school Modo Ser and of the training consultancy Humor Positivo, which specializes in applying positive emotions to the workplace. He is the author of I Suck at Meditating: A Mindfulness Guide for Regular Humans and fifteen other books published in twenty languages, from English to Chinese. Playfulness: Awaken Your Playful Spirit is his latest book (Destino, 2025).

SHUHARI

A brand-new title by the bestselling duo behind IKIGAI that reveals why it is important to keep learning to keep growing.

The moment we stop learning, or worse: stop wanting to learn, is the moment we lose our connectedness with life, our desire to grow.

According to Japanese tradition, learning has three stages: SHU, where we internalize the basics, HA, where we have learned the rules and can start experimenting a bit, and RI; which involves total mastery of the discipline.

In this book, Francesc Miralles and Héctor García aim to teach everyone why learning is important, and how it can help us reinvent ourselves and lead more fulfilling lives.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- Written under a pseudonym by Francesc Miralles and Héctor García, authors of IKIGAI, the international phenomenon that has already sold over 3M copies.
- SHUHARI reminds us that it's impossible to know everything from the start, and that it's ok to fail... as long as you try again.
- Learning new things and exercising our creativity is beneficial to our mental health and SHUHARI makes that process easy and straightforward.

MANEKI NEKO

A fun new look into Japanese culture and the ways it can help us lead a more fulfilling life.

The most popular Japanese symbol of good luck is Maneki Neko (招き猫), the figure of the cat with a raised paw that can be found all over the world today. There are different legends about its origin, but it is believed that the cat summons prosperity and fortune. In its right paw it holds a koban (小判), an ancient Japanese coin, and often wears a bell around its neck to ward off evil spirits.

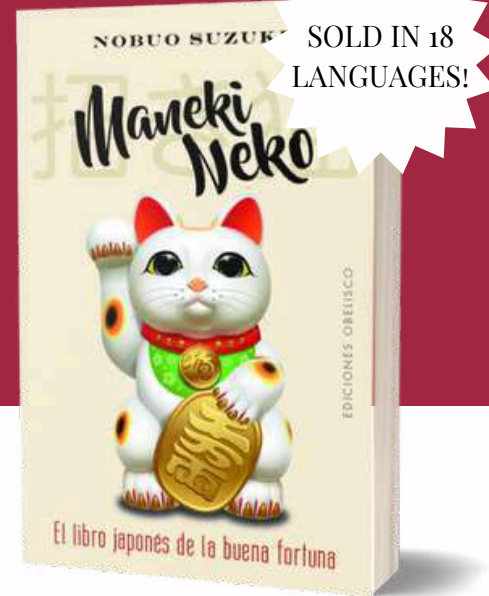

The reader will explore the essence of good luck and how we can incorporate it into our lives with the appropriate habits and attitudes.

GANBATTE

The Japanese Philosophy for achieving your aims.

Ganbatte is the philosophy of self-effort and connection to what one wants. The change you need in life is already in you, but you need to reach out to it yourself; find the path that will open your mind to be conscious about what you want. In Japan, right before an exam, students don't wish good luck to one another. They say Ganbatte! because getting where you want to be has nothing to do with luck. It's about the energy and the effort you devote to something that will help you reach your objectives. A the brand-new concept that will take the world by surprise. It is something fresh and new that is perfect for the times we are living.

KEY SELLING POINTS

WABI-SABI

How to achieve inner piece and flourish by finding the beauty in our imperfections.

Dominated by stress, multitasking and perfectionism, our existence produces a huge amount of unhappiness, as this way of living moves us away from the essence of reality. Although it might seem like a contradiction, it doesn't help us get better results in the different areas of our lives either.

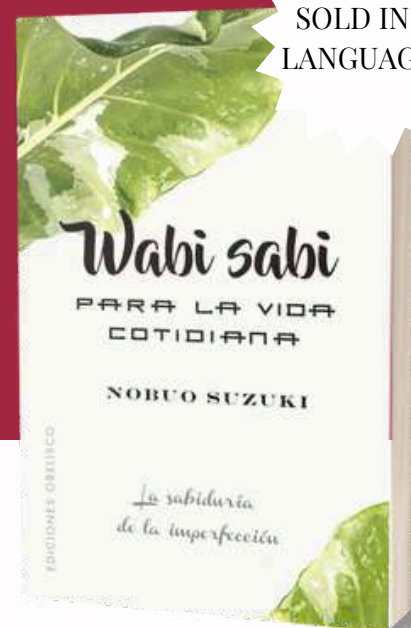

Instead, the ancient Japanese philosophy of Wabi-Sabi ("the beauty of imperfection") is a totally different way of caring for ourselves and growing through acceptance: a more intimate, natural and connected path to nature.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- From the authors of IKIGAI under a pseudonym, the international phenomenon in self-help publishing that has sold 3 million copies worldwide.
- Wabi-Sabi is a concept that can revolutionize our lives in every area, making us more sensitive to beauty and more creative.

ANTIAGING PARA EL CEREBRO (ANTIAGING FOR THE BRAIN)

A powerful non fiction book with practical strategies to slow down mental aging.

In Antiaging for the Brain, biologist Jordi Olloquequi invites us to explore the neuroscience of aging to understand the factors that contribute to cognitive decline and, most importantly, what we can do to keep our minds young, agile, and healthy for longer.

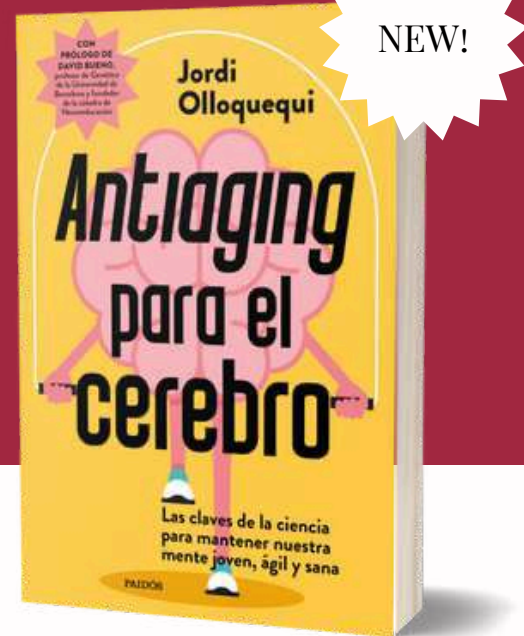

With a friendly and engaging tone, he also explores advances in neuroscience to show how stress, sleep, friendships, nutrition, and physical activity all influence brain health—and what choices we can make to adjust our lifestyle and aim to stay mentally young forever.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- Scientific knowledge made clear and relatable.
- Practical strategies to slow down mental aging. The book goes beyond theory, offering advice to keep the mind young and agile.
- A holistic view of brain and health. It explores other factors that may contribute to cognitive decline.

Jordi Olloquequi (Barcelona, 1982) is a PhD-trained cell biologist with over 15 years of experience in teaching and biomedical research. He led the Cellular and Molecular Pathology Research Group at Universidad Autónoma de Chile and now serves as a professor at Universitat de Barcelona's Faculty of Pharmacy and Food Sciences. He also researches neurodegenerative diseases at the Institute of Neurosciences (UB) and CIBERNED, focusing on new treatments for Alzheimer's and age-related conditions.

ESTO NO SE DICE (WE DON'T TALK ABOUT THAT)

A necessary depiction of the greatest evils we face: sexual abuse, bullying, depression... All through many childhood memories of Alejandro Palomas.

After a childhood marked by sexual abuse, years of eternal bullying and a hypersensitivity that on many occasions brought him to the brink of suicide, Alejandro Palomas spins in these pages a serene and electrifying story with which he flies unfiltered over childhood memories, and how the power of imagination and writing was the last plank of salvation. This is the most sincere testimony of a man who bet on living and who succeeded thanks to his passion for inventing and sharing worlds, always with tenderness and humor, and who now transforms his life into the greatest of stories.

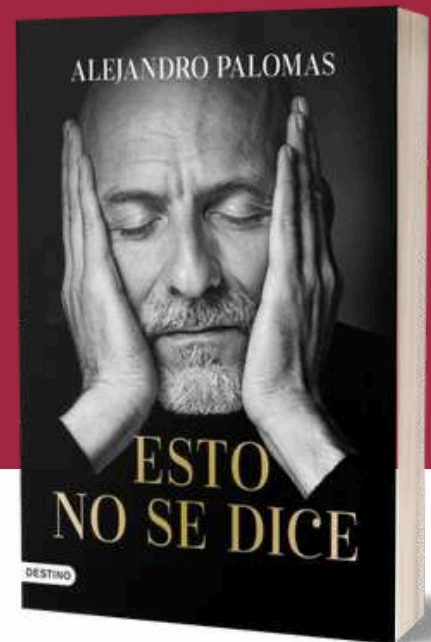

Literature allowed him to create imaginary universes better than the life around him and over the years these fictions have helped him find the words to show the whole truth.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- Childhood sexual abuse victims are 10 times more likely to commit suicide: this is the sincerest testament of a man who bet on living.
- An emotional, honest and beautiful depiction of Paloma's tremendous childhood, that could be relatable to many.
- Brave enough to adventure through many necessary -yet taboo- topics.

Alejandro Palomas (Barcelona, 1967) has a degree in English Philology from the University de Barcelona and a Master's degree in Poetry from the New College of San Francisco. He has collaborated with several newspapers and publications and translated writers such as Katherine Mansfield, Gertrude Stein, Willa Cather and Jack London. He wrote the screenplay "Ojos de Invierno", based on his novel Tanta Vida (2008), the rights for which were sold to Filmax. In 2002, he was chosen as the FNAC New Talent for his novel "El tiempo del corazón". His latest works ("Una Madre", "Un Perro" and "Un Hijo") were all critically acclaimed and translated into a number of languages.

ETERNAS (ETERNALS)

The past has never spoken so boldly through the voices of nine extraordinary queens.

Historical novelist María Reig gives voice to nine queens who transformed the course of history. From Cleopatra to Empress Sissi, including Isabella I of Castile, Catherine the Great or Marie Antoinette, Eternas invites readers to discover the inner worlds of sovereigns who defied their eras and shaped their own destinies. Each chapter presents a vivid first-person narrative that captures a defining moment—whether a bold decision, a turning point, or a glimpse of vulnerability. Eternas is both a literary homage to women who left a lasting legacy. Designed for readers seeking depth beyond facts, it offers a powerful reflection on identity, courage, and the timeless echoes of history

- A tribute to women's impact on history. Eternas brings to light the extraordinary lives of nine iconic queens moving beyond stereotypes.
- Immersive storytelling through a first-person lens. Each chapter begins with an intimate first-person retelling of an important moment
- The first non-fiction title from the best-seller author Maria Reig
- A powerful blend of storytelling and art, elevated by Elisa Ancori's unforgettable illustrations.

María Reig studied Journalism and a Master's in Corporate Communication Management.

In 2018, she decided to self-publish her first novel, Papel y Tinta. She launched a crowdfunding campaign to finance the marketing and communication plan she had designed for the release, and in less than 24 hours, she reached her funding goal. The campaign's success of the campaign gained her access to the publishing world. Papel y Tinta reached bookstores in January 2019, published by Suma de Letras. With it, she won the Debut Literary Prize "Un Año de Libros" from El Corte Inglés. Since then, she has published two other novels. The past few years, she has been balancing her work as a novelist with studying for her History Degree, which she began in order to gain more knowledge and refine her skills as a historical fiction writer.

LA AMBICIÓN AMABLE (POSITIVE AMBITION)

Know and empower your ambition in a sustainable and powerful way to achieve positive changes in all aspects of your life

“When I became friends with ambition, I began to feel an extraordinary strength that led me to discover that I was an extremely ambitious person. The simple act of verbalizing it, gave me confidence and helped me have more clarity about what I want to achieve. For me, ambition is directly related to what we feel, to our emotions and desires.

My purpose with this book is to bring ambition closer to people, to bring it closer to you so that you too can activate that powerful energy that allows you to live with enthusiasm and determination. You will see that very soon you will start to feel that motivation every day in every aspect of your life”.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- A different approach to the concept of ambition, used as a tool to fully embrace your goals in a healthy way.
- An unusual concept, based on spontaneity and creativity.

Sonia Rico is as a coach and a therapist, veteran author of motivational books.

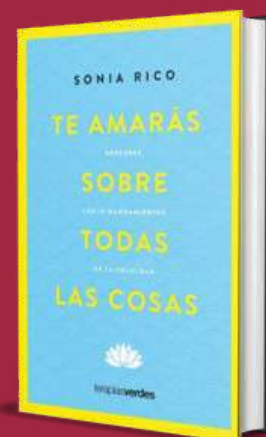

DEAR GUILT THANK YOU, BUT GOODBYE

- An essential read for those seeking to reconcile with their past, let go of emotional burdens, and embrace a more conscious and fulfilling life.

THE HABIT MAKES THE MONK

YOU WILL LOVE YOURSELF ABOVE ALL THINGS

QUERIDA CULPA (DEAR GUILT)

A transformative journey that explores one of the most universal and paralyzing emotions: guilt.

Guilt is not an enemy but a signal inviting us to look inward, identify beliefs that no longer serve us, and free ourselves from toxic interpretations and expectations that hinder our growth and disconnect us from our true essence. Drawing from her experience as a coach, therapist, and yoga teacher, Sonia Rico presents a profound and approachable guide that unravels the roots of guilt—ranging from the cultural and religious conditioning instilled in us to the internal dynamics of the ego that perpetuate it as a cycle of self-judgment—and examines how it affects our emotions, relationships, and physical health.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- Blending practical wisdom, spiritual philosophy, and applicable exercises to help readers release the emotional burden of guilt, replacing it with acceptance, self-compassion, and authenticity.
- An essential read for those seeking to reconcile with their past, let go of emotional burdens, and embrace a more conscious and fulfilling life.

Sonia Rico (Sabadell, 1975) has a degree in Audiovisual Communication and a master's degree in Research in Journalism and Communication (UAB). She is a journalist and writer, a profession she combines as a Coach, Neurolinguistic Programming therapist, Emotional Kinesiologist and Yoga Instructor.

Her constant research in the field of personal development and consciousness led her to build and offer this magical tool called BioCoaching, because she believes that through it, we can become architects of our dreams and builders of our lives. Her second book, "Te amarás sobre todas las cosas," wants to help people reach their best version of themselves and to reach a real state of happiness.

EL HÁBITO HACE AL MONJE (THE HABIT MAKES THE MONK)

A key guide to understand that our habits and customs shape the person we are

We often think that it is the big events that will significantly change our existence and we forget that our life is a reflection of what we are living. Having a full life is possible through training. But, for that, it is necessary to learn some things and unlearn many others. Sonia Rico's book offers a new way of looking at and going through your own life. The author, who is a yoga teacher and experienced coach, teaches us, through various resources, that we have all the conditions to be happy. We just have to train ourselves with small steps that we can take every day.

"Buddha was not a God, nor a magical being. He simply developed powerful habits that helped him to take care of his body, his mind and his relationship with the world".

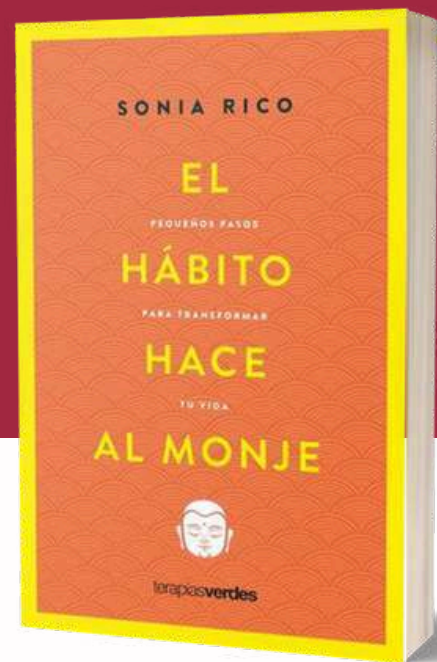

KEY SELLING POINTS

- A practical and fun guide on how you can transform yourself physically, mentally and spiritually.
- Do you feel unhappy at certain times? Do you live under stress or suffer from anxiety? Do your negative thoughts betray you? El hábito hace al monje will help you overcome these obstacles that prevent you from living a fulfilling life.

TE AMARÁS SOBRE TODAS LAS COSAS (YOU WILL LOVE YOURSELF ABOVE ALL THINGS)

A self-love decalogue that transforms the ten divine commandments into commandments of happiness

How would our life be if instead of learning how to meet other people expectations, we learned how to love ourselves among everything else? Sonia Rico has created a self-love decalogue that transforms the ten divine commandments into commandments of happiness. Starting with self-love, which is the philosopher stone of this book, suggests commandments like «you will not promise in vain» or «you will not steal your dreams», each one of which offers us surprising with discoveries and interesting challenges to get out of our comfort zone. The author gives us inspirational stories, exercises, tools and practical examples with which she wants to bring to light those commandments that we all carry inside and that limit us.

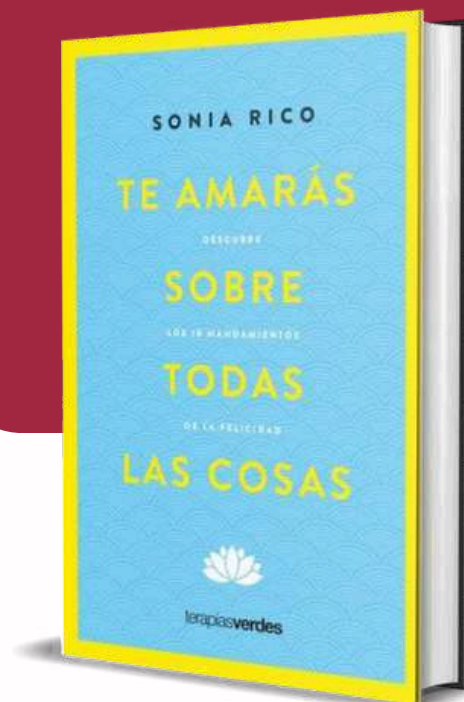

KEY SELLING POINTS

- An empowerment method to gain self-love, health, confidence, motivation, creativity and success in all areas in life.
- The author, Sonia Rico, is an experienced and renowned therapist. The book also includes a prologue by Francesc Miralles, an internationally bestselling author and a prominent figure in the field of mental health.

MENOPOWER

Keys to Nutrition, Movement, and Emotions for Living Menopause with Fullness and Well-Being.

Fortunately, more health professionals are addressing menopause with care and guidance. This support is essential for women to rediscover joy, energy, and reconnect with themselves. Not talking about it and maintaining a façade to seem desirable or employable uses up the energy needed to grow and enjoy this new stage of life. The societal model of a perfect, desirable woman is exhausting. I propose a kinder, more authentic model. Look inward, and everything will be fine. It's about becoming a healthy, serene, and powerful woman in this transformative stage of life.

KEY SELLING POINTS

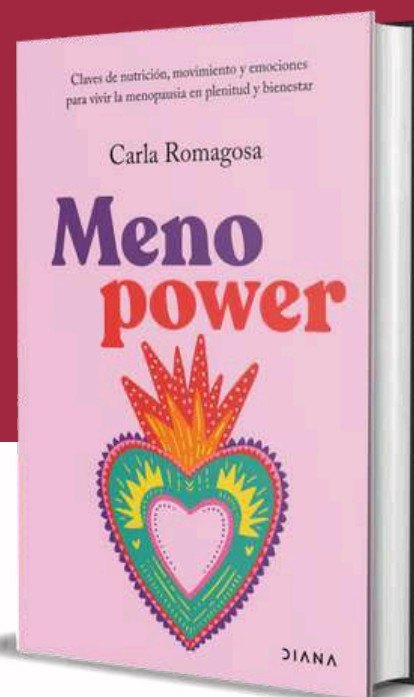

- With practical tools on how to navigate menopause with confidence and empowerment,
- It challenges the exhausting Society's "Perfect Woman" ideal proposing a more authentic and empowering model of women.
- Romagosa is a renowned specialist, with nearly 150k followers on social media where she actively shares empowering principles with her community.

Carla Romagosa is a nutritionist and publicist on menopause, as well as a member of the working group of the Spanish Association for the Study of Menopause AEE.

LOS HÁBITOS DEL SUEÑO (THE HABITS OF SLEEP)

From the bestselling author of POR FIN DUERMO, comes a new book that tells you everything you need to know about sleep.

Nowadays, having a good night's sleep is the exception instead of the norm for most of us. However, it does not need to be like that.

In LOS HÁBITOS DEL SUEÑO, bestselling author and expert Dr. Nuria Roure details what it means to have a good night's sleep and how to work to achieve that.

The key word is habit. Bad habits require time to be broken, and good habits require time to be adopted and to show results. However, once you manage to incorporate them, they come as second nature, practically an instinct.

A book that is the perfect guide for those looking to change their sleeping habits for good.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- It teaches which habits they should adopt to have the best sleep possible.
- The "Roure Method" is only six-steps long, which makes it easy to incorporate into daily routines.
- It serves as a manual with approachable, easy to understand concepts that everyone can apply, no matter their background.
- Everyone needs to sleep! And to sleep well.

Nuria Roure was born in Lleida, Spain, in 1978. She holds a degree in Psychology and earned a cum laude doctorate in Sleep Medicine. She is an accredited specialist in sleep disorders by the European Sleep Research Society and has been a member of the Spanish Sleep Society (SES) for more than fifteen years. With over twenty years of experience in this field and thanks to her own methodology, she has helped thousands of people enjoy life and achieve better health.

She is also the author of the book POR FIN DUERMO, which has helped thousands of people improve their sleep and rest. In her new work, she offers the motivation that we often lack to start implementing and maintaining healthy sleep habits.

HOMO SOLVER

THE 15 ISSUES YOU HAVE TO SOLVE TO LEAD A MEANINGFUL LIFE

Discover how to turn challenges into opportunities with HOMO SOLVER, the new book by Àlex Rovira and Francesc Miralles that teaches you how to solve problems and achieve personal and professional success.

Life is a continuous series of problems that we must face. The way we resolve those problems will determine our success and how satisfied we feel with our lives.

In this new book, Àlex Rovira and Francesc Miralles, two of Spain's most celebrated self-development writers, aim to give readers the tools to live in peace and not stress about their problems. How? By learning how to solve them, of course.

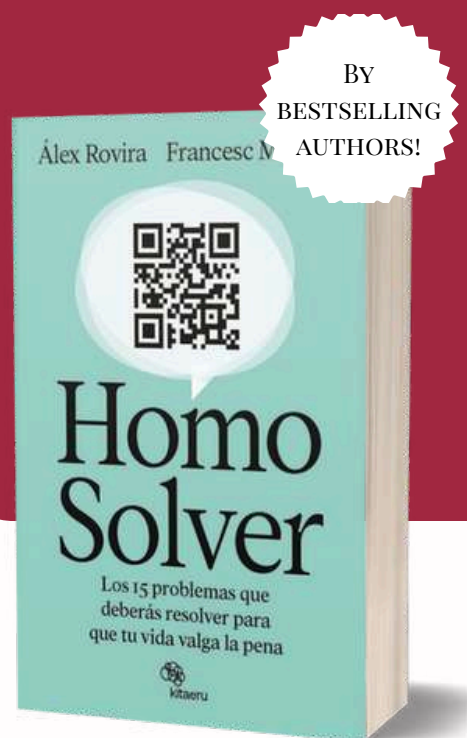

KEY SELLING POINTS

- Written by two authors who have been translated into dozens of languages and have something unique: true global appeal.
- Highlights how challenges can and should be growth opportunities.
- In this day and age it is becoming more and more important to go beyond understanding the problems we face and take steps to actually solve them.

AMOR (LOVE)

The most needed manual on the most powerful energy: love.

This is not a book about heartbreak, falling in love or sexuality. It is a practical manual to promote the most powerful energy we have, the one that unites us to others, the one that multiplies our strength to achieve goals and enjoy life with nutritious relationships.

To present this, each chapter invites us to carry out concrete actions to raise the quality of our bond with our couple, children, friends, or even in our work team, providing new visions to increase our balance of love and that of our beloved ones.

KEY SELLING POINTS

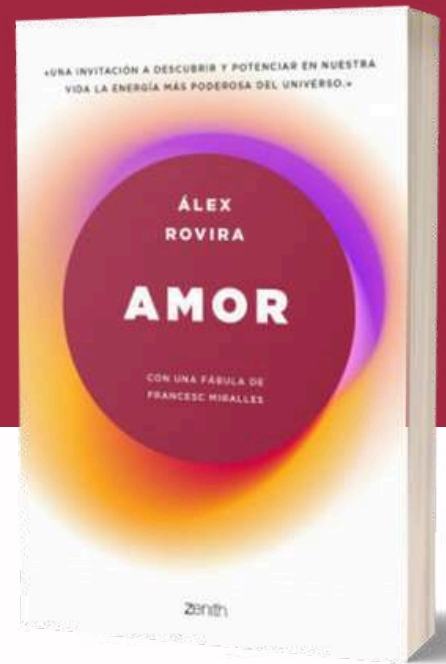

- By the authors who have sold more than 2,500,000. copies and whose books have been translated into dozens of languages.
- The topic of basic emotions is a trend in psychology, but usually it is written in an academic language. Instead, this book follows the premises of seriosity yet accessibility from "Alegría", their previous work.

PEQUEÑO CURSO DE MAGIA CUOTIDIANA (SMALL COURSE OF EVERYDAY MAGIC)

A personal renovation through the small moments that compose our everyday life.

Everyday happiness leans on lots of little rituals of which we are normally unaware of. Having a cup of coffee when we wake up, walking to work, meeting with our friends or going back to the oasis that is home... all these actions can be meaningful and transformative if we carry them out with sense, celebrating every instant that life gives us.

This little course on everyday magic is an invitation to being happy with the small moments that, as the wise men and women say, when we look back on them we realize that they are the big, important ones.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- Structured through everyday rituals that we do at different times of the day, sometimes even without realizing we are doing anything. What the author wants us to do is to experience how we live, with a mindfulness that allows us to introduce little changes that will give us more energy and happiness.
- Francesc Miralles, the bestselling author with international success, has written the prologue and epilogue with 9 secrets to reach happiness.

Anna Sólyom was born in 1981 in Budapest, Hungary. With a degree in Philosophy, she published in her country Pillowsophia, a heterodox essay applied to everyday life. She combines her facet as a writer with her therapies as a facilitator of life changes.

Installed in Barcelona since 2012, she collaborates monthly in the Integral magazine and prepares her first novel.

NEUROCUÍDATE (TAKE CARE WITH NEUROSCIENCE)

Fascinating book that delves into the secrets of the brain and how understanding its functions can enhance your life. Sara Teller, a neuroscientist and yoga expert, combines neuroscience with personal well-being to explain how our daily activities and emotions shape our brain.

When we breathe, love, smile, run, get angry, sleep, or eat we are generating neuronal connexions and liberating countless neuroquimic explosions in our brains. Did you know that, depending on your lifestyle, you will develop a different kind of brain, and you will feel and think differently?

Everything affects the brain. Discover which emotions guide it, in which ways moving our body improves our cognitive thinking, making us acquire mental and emotional health, how to offer it adequate nutrition and rest, the cognitive impact of social networks, or how to win in creativity and productivity.

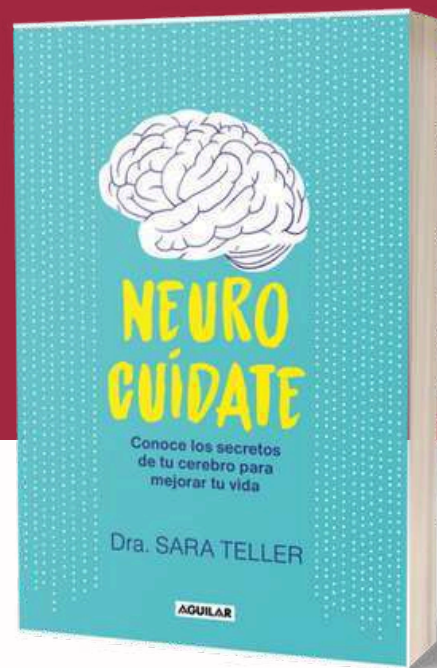

Understanding the potentials and imperfections of our brains and discovering all its mysteries is the key to understanding better ourselves.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- An original approach to well-being, with the excellent addition of an elaborated scientific research to back all arguments.
- From the co-author of El Cerebro de la Gente Feliz, translated to 11 languages and on its 7th edition.

SENTIR (TO FEEL)

A trip to learn and accompany your emotions to reach deeper and more meaningful bonds.

Most of us haven't been taught emotional education, neither we have received the resources to know what to do with how we feel. Nevertheless, we have to accompany the emotions of our children, family or friends. How can we achieve it, if we don't even know how to manage ours?

This book is a trip through the senses to understand why is it so hard to receive and canalize assertively what we feel, in special those emotions blocked inside us.

When we learn how to manage our own feelings, it will be much easier to accompany others without any fear, living a more conscious and fulfilling life.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- The key lecture to live a more fulfilling life with the ones you love by understanding one's emotions.
- An easy, practical lecture, full of resources and tools to work with.

Miriam Tirado was born in Manresa in 1976. She's studied journalism and has worked in the Catalan and Spanish media world. However, her main inclination, apart from writing, has always been motherhood. Her mother is a prenatal educator and therapist, and they've written a book together. This increased Miriam's passion for these subjects and, when her first daughter was born in 2009, she decided to start a blog to narrate this exciting new period. This portal is still active and publishes articles on motherhood, fatherhood and raising children. Currently, she works as a parenting consultant and has already published several non-fiction works that have helped thousands of families.

LÍMITES (BOUNDARIES)

Focuses on the importance of setting conscious boundaries in parenting.

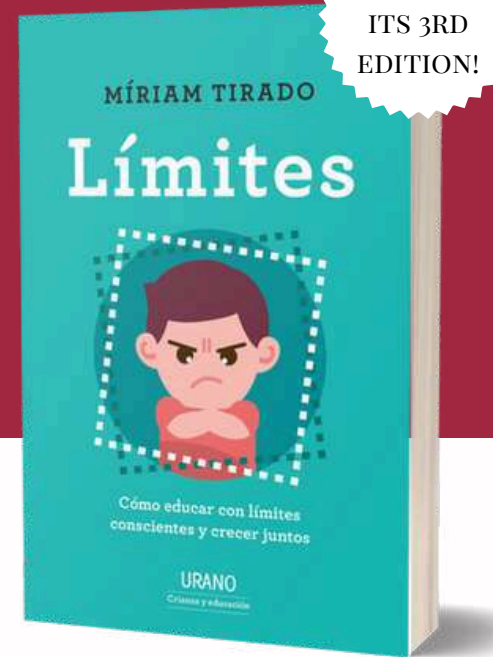

This book is about limits, those red lines that protect the integrity of the little ones and allow them to share life with other people. How can we sustain conscious limits and agreed rules that provide structure and security to our children, how can we avoid falling into authoritarianism and arbitrariness or, on the contrary, into a lack of limits that lead children to feel fear, insecurity or to seek validation at all costs? With the humility that characterizes her, Míriam Tirado shares her own doubts, learnings, challenges and achievements on the road to loving and responsible limits. A deeply personal work, which accompanies us with empathy and humor in the exploration of our own relationship with limits so that we are able, with the help of different exercises and tools, to provide children with coherent support.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- More than 100.000 copies sold of her best-selling parenting book, "Rabietas".
- Míriam Tirado is a certified parenting consultant and her advice has helped a lot of families.
- Offers tools and exercises to help parents find a balance between authority and permissiveness, promoting a healthy and secure relationship with their children.

RABIETAS (TANTRUMS)

A complete guide on understanding tantrums, using them to make children learn and grow.

All children have them and all parents have to deal with them. They are the famous tantrums, capable of upsetting even the most conscientious and respectful adult. Temper tantrums often bring out our worst side, and in those cases, sadness and a sense of failure are inevitable.

What if so much suffering is unnecessary? What if it is absurd to even think about putting an end to tantrums, because they are an essential aspect in the development of children? What if the key is you, your ability to be present and to bring awareness to the situation?

KEY SELLING POINTS

SOLOSOFÍA (SOLOSOPHY)

The art of feeling complete and enjoying life without the need of someone else.

Banish the cliché that you can't enjoy life alone. This book invites you to take control of your destiny without making it depend on anything other than your own choices. The key is solosophy, the art of feeling fulfilled in solitude. Celebrate the choice of owning your time and your space!

To develop the art of solosophy you must learn to live in the present, and to do so with all five senses. Nika Vázquez accompanies you in this process in which you will learn that being alone is not the same as feeling alone, on the contrary: it can be the key to happiness.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- With solosophy, you are going to enjoy yourself in ways you never thought you could and in situations you would never have imagined.
- Rights sold in 11 languages!
- One of the practical self-growth books being a sensation in Europe, now recently sold in English!

Nika Vázquez Seguí has a degree in Psychology from the University of Valencia and a master's degree in psycho-oncology from the Complutense University of Madrid, among other postgraduate studies. She combines her private practice with teaching courses on Emotional Intelligence in different institutions. For several years she coordinated a pioneering website for on-line psychological support for the Eduardo Punset Foundation. She is the author of the books Aporta o aparta (Aguilar) and Te quiero, ¿y ahora qué? Her latest book Solosofía is being a success and has been translated ten times so far.

EL MIEDO ES TU MAETRO (FEAR IS YOUR MASTER)

An inspiring guide in which survivor Álvaro Vizcaíno reveals the keys to transforming your fears into opportunities and unleashing your personal power.

One decade ago, Alvaro Vizcaino's adventure made headlines around the world. After slipping and being left hanging above the abyss, he had to jump to save himself, suffering severe injuries and surviving for two days in an astonishing odyssey that made it to the big screen.

After years of giving lectures and inspiring teams, he has decided to bring his experiences and lessons into everyday life through this manual. In what ways are your fears holding you back? What do they say about you?

In this manual, the author will help you understand how this hidden power works within yourself, while guiding you through the different stages that will unleash your whole potential to be able to live the life you deserve.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- In 2018, Alvaro Vizcaino's story was adapted into the film "Solo", directed by Hugo Stuenkel and starring Alain Hernández.
- Alvaro has an incredible survival story that led him to share his experience in conferences and interviews.
- The value of the book lies in the author's ability to share, without filters, how managing fear in a desperate situation like the one he experienced can provide us with tools to overcome the challenges we face.

Alvaro Vizcaino is an independent entrepreneur with studies in psychology, mindfulness, and coaching, which he uses to motivate thousands of people in both corporate and personal settings.

His greatest adversity, adapted into the film Solo (Netflix), has become his greatest opportunity. He firmly believes that we all possess ten times more strength than we imagine if we break free from self-imposed limitations.

Currently, a California-based production company is working on another film about his life's adventure.
