SANDRA BRUNA

AGENCIA LITERARIA

SANDRA BRUNA

Sandra began working at a literary agency at a very young age and combined studying for her bachelor's degree in Spanish with her job at the agency. In 2001, after ten years of experience she decided to embark on a solo adventure, and started her own agency. The beginnings were slow, but now, over twenty years later, Sandra Bruna Agencia Literaria has grown to become a consolidated agency representing over 130 Spanish and Catalan authors, with an extensive client list of publishers and agencies which the agency represents in Spanish and Portuguese-speaking markets.

One Sunday afternoon, the dark brown squirrel rested on the branch of the tree where he lived. From afar he heard the voices of men and women who had cooked grilled meat. Suddenly, in the forest there is more light and it is hotter than usual, and the squirrel realizes that the flames begin to invade his home. Frightened, she flees by jumping from tree to tree until he reaches an unknown area of the forest, far from her home, where she will get settled and earn the trust of the other squirrels, who despise him for coming from a different place.

Available material

Ada and her friends continue their mission: to help the classic world to understand and accept the quantum one, while searching for the chosen one who can break the seal that separates both worlds. As they travel between dimensions, they must rescue some of the greatest pioneers of science—Heisenberg, Schrödinger, and Dirac—and guide them to the heart of the quantum world to complete the map of knowledge. But the balance begins to break. While science pushes toward a new future, a shadowy group is working to twist its path. What starts as a search for answers could end in catastrophe. And what looks like progress may reveal just how fragile everything truly is. Can Ada stop destiny before both worlds fall apart?

KEY SELLING POINTS

The prequel to Through the bolted door, the middle grade novel that kickstarted a renaissance in science-themed fiction stories for children and became a massive bestseller.

The saga has been translated into a total of 17 languages! More than 500,000 copies sold worldwide!

The setting is reminiscent of Enola Holmes, the successful Netflix series.

SONIA FERNÁNDEZ-VIDAL

Sonia Fernández-Vidal (Barcelona, 1978) has a physics degree and a PhD on information and quantum optics. She combines her research with teaching, another one of her passions, and giving lectures on introduction to quantum physics to non-academic audiences. She has published two fiction books using her scientific knowledge, to great success: one for crossover audiences, Quantic Love, and the middle grade series La puerta de los tres cerrojos.

Niko, a lonely 14-year-old boy, cannot imagine the consequences that taking a different route to school one day will have. By following a different path, he finds a house that he has never seen before. Intrigued by the mystery, he steps inside and finds himself inside a strange universe. In the Quantum World, amazing things happen. Like a war between matter and antimatter, the disappearance and reappearance of Schrödinger's cat or a clockmaker's workshop where the relativity of time is tested.

Immersed in this unexpected adventure, Niko's mission is to restore the endangered balance between his world and the quantum universe that he has just discovered.

Amelia's life has just been turned upside-down. Her grandmother, the person who raised her, has passed away. She has moved, started a new school where she doesn't know anybody, and she misses her grandmother every day.

She feels lost and alone, and at times she feels like nobody gets her. Her only goal is to survive her first year of secondary school.

With the help of new friends and her therapist, Amelia soon discovers that writing to her grandmother helps her cope with grief and embrace the changes in her life. She doesn't have to be perfect all the time. She just has to learn how to be herself.

KEY SELLING POINTS

A heartfelt novel about grief, friendship, and new beginnings. A great way to open the dialogue with pre-teens about navigating loss and grief.

Amèlia Power aims to make young readers feel at home. Because feeling understood and loved is essential to the growth of any human being.

A lesson on the importance of discovering oneself and not trying to be perfect all the time, that will surely have a lasting impact.

VILMA MONTOLIU

Vilma Montoliu (Barcelona, 1997) has a diploma in holistic naturopathy, a degree in art history and is also a coach specialized in meditation and emotion management. In 2019 she launched a meditation internet channel, and in just a few months she gained thousands of followers. To bring meditation, self-knowledge, and personal growth closer to her followers, she uses various platforms—YouTube, Spotify, or Instagram—and brought to life one of the largest Catalan personal growth communities with over 31,000 Instagram followers and 30,000 monthly listeners. She also gives out courses and talks.

Luna doesn't believe in horoscopes. Partly because her mother is an astrologer, and because the universe doesn't seem to be in her favor. She is a Leo, a born leader according to the stars, but Luna has no friends. Well, she has one, her neighbor Pol. One afternoon she finds a note under a bench. It's from someone who seems to be in trouble and signs as Pisces. Encouraged by Pol, and guided by her mother's astrology book, she decides to write to Pisces, but how can she get her letter to him if she doesn't even know who he is? Olivia, an idealistic, successful, and helpful Virgo, decides to join her cause. Together they create Astrolove, a sort of sentimental horoscope consultancy that soon becomes very popular in high school.

The Hive doesn't like people poking their noses into its business. You know the place I'm talking about? That area on the outskirts, full of huge, ugly buildings, where that fire happened years ago— with so many dead people. What a horror. They have their own beliefs there, their own myths, and their own demons. Now, everything seems quiet. Or so they say. But the local children disagree. Something is waking up in the third basement of the parking lot. The flooded one. And that something wants the inhabitants of the Hive to perform an old ritual—where dying is only the first step, and what comes next is far worse.

KEY SELLING POINTS

The novel blends literary and adventure elements, appealing to readers who enjoy both emotional storytelling and thrilling journeys.

The story weaves danger, revelation, and personal growth with a fresh and original voice, offering readers a gripping and thought-provoking experience.

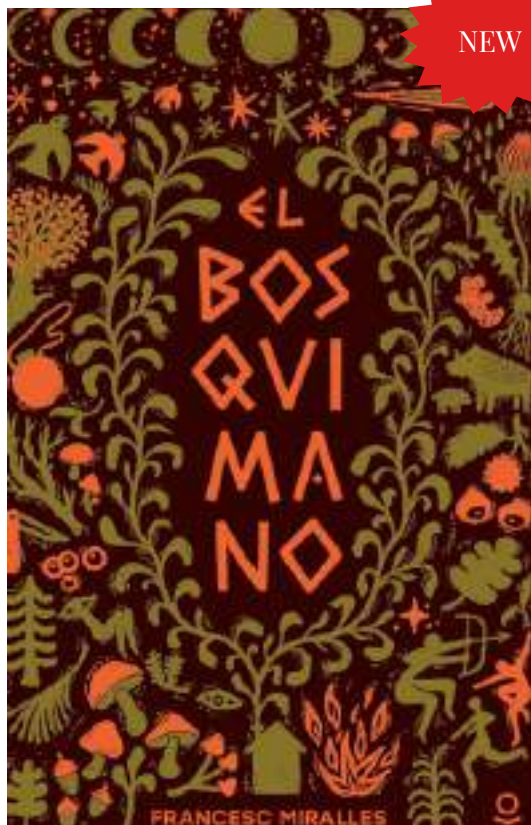

With teenage protagonists, a cinematic pace, and plenty of spine-chilling YA horror, the book is now on its third edition in Spain.

Toni has always felt a fascination for the forest that stretches a few kilometers from his home, in a modest village in the Montseny region. With the arrival of autumn and the threat of yet another lockdown due to a new pandemic, he convinces Miguel, his best friend, to go along with a crazy idea: to run away from the village and live like true bushmen.

Apart from a couple of sleeping bags and their pocket knives, they will rely only on their hands and their ingenuity to survive. Soon, the plan begins to go awry... and as Toni discovers that someone else is hiding in the forest, he will experience an incredible adventure that forces him to confront his own essence.

The novel blends literary and adventure elements, appealing to readers who enjoy both emotional storytelling and thrilling journeys.

The story weaves danger, revelation, and personal growth with a fresh and original voice, offering readers a gripping and thought-provoking experience.

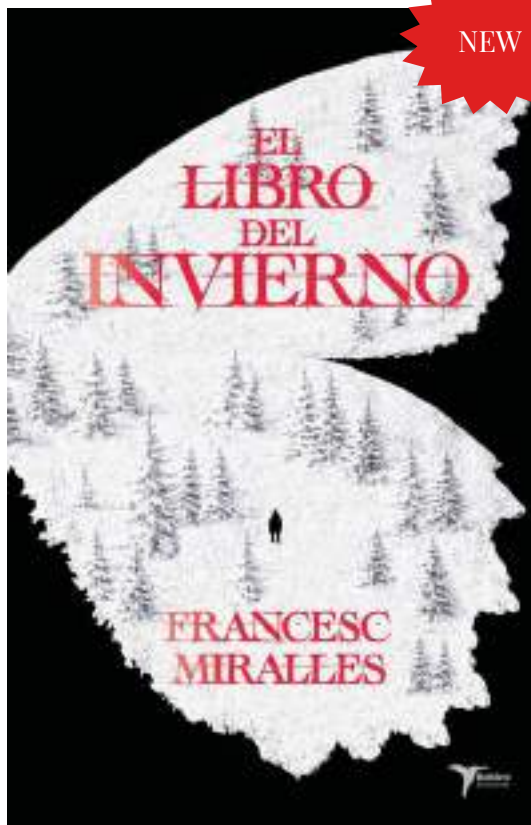

With teenage protagonists, a cinematic pace, and spine-chilling YA horror, the book is now on its third edition in Spain.
